PREFACE.

THE MEDICAL REGISTER FOR MASSACHUSETTS is designed to succeed, on a more extended plan, the work of a similar character, issued by the same author, two years ago, which was prepared only to embrace the city of Boston and its vicinity.

This volume is more confidently prepared and offered to the Profession in consequence of the favorable reception given to its predecessor, and in conformity to the assurance of many that the value of such a work would be greatly increased by the gathering of information from a wider field, and making it useful and interesting to a larger circle.

Like the former, it is intended that this work shall be thoroughly practical in its character, and shall contain such information concerning societies and associations, hospitals and dispensaries, charitable asylums, institutions, and societies, professional institutions of education within the State, laws and ordinances relating to professional men, lists of nurses, surgical instrument makers, chemists, microscope dealers, &c., &c., as is daily needed by every active member of the medical and allied professions. In the new edition certain changes have been made both in form and matter, a large amount of fresh material has been introduced, and no pains have been spared to make the MEDICAL REGISTER a valuable hand-book for the entire State.

The author owes his thanks to many friends who have given him valuable advice and assistance, and to all those of his medical brethren who have manifested a sympathy in the undertaking.

ASSOCIATIONS AND SOCIETIES.

MEDICAL REGISTER.

American Medical Association.

In May, 1846, a convention of medical men was held in the city of New York, which declared it expedient for the medical profession of the United States to institute a National Medical Association. In May, 1847, the convention assembled at Philadelphia, reorganized, and, having adopted a series of regulations, became known as "The American Medical Association." Its first annual meeting was convened in Baltimore, May 2, 1848; and, since that time, with the exception of the years 1861 and 1862, annual sessions have been held in most of the large cities of the country.

Delegates may be appointed to the Association from permanently organized State medical societies, and such county and district medical societies as are recognized by representation in their respective State societies, and from the Medical Department of the Army and Navy of the United States. Persons who have served in the capacity of delegates become permanent members, and are privileged to attend the meetings and participate in the affairs of the Association, but without the right of voting. Any reputable physician, who is vouched for as such by three of the active or permanent members, can attend the meetings of the Association, and is "entitled to participate in all its affairs, as in the case of delegates, except the right to vote."

"Each State, county, and district medical society, entitled to representation, shall have the privilege of sending to the Association one delegate for every ten of its regular resident members, and one for every additional fraction of more than half that number.

"The medical staffs of the army and navy shall be entitled to four delegates each."

The meetings of the Association are held annually, and commence on the first Tuesday in May, or first Tuesday in June.

The next annual meeting will be held at Louisville, Ky., on the first Tuesday in May, 1875.

The sum of $5 is assessed annually upon each delegate to the sessions of the Association, as well as upon each of the permanent members, whether present or not. Permanent members who, for three years, fail to pay this assessment, are stricken from the roll of membership.

A Judicial Council, consisting of twenty-one members, is intrusted with the decision of all questions of an ethical or judicial character. The decisions of this Council are final.

Two prizes are offered annually by a committee of the Association for essays on medical subjects. (See article on prizes.)

The twenty-fifth volume of the Transactions will be published in November, 1874.

The officers for the year 1874–75 are: —

President — W. K. Bowling, M.D., Tennessee.

Vice-Presidents — Drs. William Brodie, Michigan; J. J. Woodward, U. S. A.; H. W. Brown, Texas; H. D. Didama, New York.

Association of Medical Superintendents of American Institutions for the Insane.

The Association was formed in Philadelphia in 1844, for the discussion of and consultation upon all matters pertaining to the welfare, best care, management, and medical and moral treatment of the insane. Past and present medical superintendents of all institutions for the insane, both public and private, throughout the American continent, are entitled to membership. About eighty hospitals are represented, and the Association includes one hundred members.

The meetings are held annually, in May or June, at such places as may be agreed on by vote of the Association. The next meeting will be held at Stockton, Cal., on the third Tuesday in May, 1875.

The Transactions of the Society are published in the "American Journal of Insanity."

American Academy of Dental Science.

The object of this Society is to promote the theoretical and practical knowledge of Dentistry, and to elevate the standard of the science and the requirements of practitioners of the profession. It was organized September 9, 1867.

The Academy consists of Active, Associate, and Honorary Fellows. Active Fellows must be residents of Massachusetts, and have received the degree of Doctor of Medicine, or Doctor of Dental Surgery, or Dental Medicine. Associate Fellows may be non-residents, but must have the same qualifications as Active Fellows. Honorary Fellows shall be such persons as are distinguished for their scientific and professional merits, either as dentists or physicians. Other practitioners may be members who, after a special and satisfactory examination by the Board of Censors, shall be recommended for membership. Two-thirds of the Fellows present voting in the affirmative shall admit a candidate, who must sign the Constitution and By-Laws, and pay the admission fee of $5. There is also an annual assessment of $5 on each Active Fellow, and each Associate Fellow residing in New England.

The regular meetings of the Academy are held in Boston on the first Tuesday of each month, except August, at 7 o'clock, P.M.

The annual meeting is held in Boston, on the last Monday in September, at 12 o'clock, M., for the election of officers, and the transaction of such business as may promote the welfare of the Academy.

American Pharmaceutical Association.

Organized at New York, October 15, 1851. The aim of this body is to unite the educated and reputable pharmacists and druggists of the United States, for their own improvement, for the advancement of the science and art of Pharmacy, and for the good of the community at large. Every pharmacist or druggist of good standing, and Teachers of Pharmacy, Chemistry, and Materia Medica throughout the United States, are eligible to membership. All local organizations of pharmacists are entitled to representation by five delegates at the annual meeting of the Association, who become members for that year on paying the annual contribution. Pharmacists, chemists, and other scientific men who may be thought worthy the distinction, may be elected honorary members. The fee for initiation is $5, and the same sum is to be paid by members as an annual fee. The payment of $75 constitutes the person a life-member.

The Association holds its meetings annually, in September, at such places as may be decided by vote.

The Proceedings of the Association are published annually.

President — John F. Hancock, Baltimore, Md.

Massachusetts Medical Society.

The Massachusetts Medical Society was formed in 1781, with power to elect officers, examine and license candidates for practice, hold real estate, and "continue as a body politic and corporate by the same name for ever." In June, 1782, after several preparatory meetings, By-Laws were enacted, a Common Seal was adopted, the Society organized, and Dr. Edward A. Holyoke of Salem chosen the first President.

In 1790, the first publication of the Society was issued; the second appeared in 1804, and the third in 1806.

The Society is intended to include all regular physicians practising medicine within the Commonwealth, and admission takes place according to the following prescribed laws of the State and the Society:—

"No person shall hereafter become a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, except upon examination by the Censors of said Society; and any person of good moral character, found to possess the qualifications prescribed by the rules and regulations of said Society, shall be admitted a Fellow of said Society." *

The By-Laws of the Society referred to in the Special Law of the State are as follows:—

"I. Any person may be admitted a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, who shall have passed a satisfactory examination before a Board of Censors, as to his credentials, personal and medical qualifications, and character, and shall have signed the By-Laws.

* Chapter 82, Massachusetts Laws, 1859.

"The candidate shall be a person of sound mind, and of good moral character; shall be not less than twenty-one years of age; shall have such an acquaintance with the Latin language as is necessary for a good medical and surgical education; and shall have acquired the principles of geometry and experimental philosophy. He shall have studied three full years under the direction, and shall have attended the practice, of some respectable physician or physicians. He shall have attended two full courses of lectures on anatomy, physiology, chemistry, materia medica, midwifery, and the theory and practice of medicine and surgery.

"No person shall hereafter be admitted a member of the Society who professes to cure diseases by Spiritualism, Homœopathy, or Thomsonianism.

"II. Candidates shall be examined, at any stated meeting of the Censors, in each and all the branches mentioned in Article I. of the By-Laws. If the examination be satisfactory to the major part of the Censors present, the candidate shall be admitted a Fellow; but, if unsatisfactory, he shall not be re-examined by any Board of Censors in less than six months."*

The Censors of Suffolk District (who are empowered to act for the Society, and to examine all those who have not a residence in some other district of the State) meet in Boston, on the Thursday next preceding the annual meeting of the Society, on the day immediately succeeding the examination of the Medical Department of Harvard University, and at other stated times as announced by advertisement. The Censors of the other districts meet at the same place and on the same day as the district societies to which they belong.

Fellows who have arrived at the age of sixty years are allowed to become retired members, if approved by the Committee on Resignations. Retired members are entitled to all the privileges of Fellows, and shall conform to all the requirements of the Society, and be subject to its penalties, except that they shall not be liable to assessments, and shall not be bound to accept any office in the Society. Any Fellow, whose dues have been paid or remitted, may be allowed to withdraw from the Society on expressing his wish to that effect in writing.

The Massachusetts Medical Society includes seventeen district societies, all of which are under the control of the parent society.

The district societies appoint their own officers and establish regulations for their particular government, not repugnant to the By-Laws of the general Society; and are empowered to hold and dispose of books, instruments, and other personal property, exclusive of any authority of the general Society. Together the societies contain about 1,350 members.

The annual meeting of the Society is held in May or June, at such place as may be chosen by the Board of Councillors. Ten members of the Society constitute a quorum.

The next annual meeting will be held in Boston, on the second Wednesday in June, 1875, at 10 o'clock, A.M.

The Councillors meet on the day preceding the annual meeting, and on the first Wednesday in October and February. Nine Councillors constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a smaller number may adjourn the meeting.

The Proceedings of the Society, and the annual address, are, as a rule, published each year. Members of the Society also receive a copy of Braithwaite's "Retrospect of Medicine and Surgery," at the expense of the Society.

The receipts for the year ending May, 1874, were $7,742.06; expenditure $7,837.57.

Massachusetts Dental Society,

This organization was formed in May, 1864, and received an act of incorporation from the Legislature in April, 1865. Its object is to cultivate the science and art of Dentistry and all its collateral branches, by means of a library and museum, professional lectures, and publications, and by premiums and medals for original researches and discoveries; to elevate and sustain the professional character of Dentists, and to promote amongst them mutual improvement, social intercourse, and good-will.

It includes active, junior, corresponding, and honorary members. Active members consist of practitioners of Dentistry residing in the State of Massachusetts. They must be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, and have received a diploma from a respectable medical or dental college, or have been five years in the practice of dentistry, including term of pupilage. Junior members consist of students of dentistry and dentists not eligible to active membership. Corresponding members consist of practitioners of dentistry residing in other States of the Union, or in foreign countries, who manifest a disposition to advance the science and art of the profession by contributing to its literature.

Honorary memberships are conferred by the Society on distinguished members of the profession, and others who may merit the distinction.

The fee for admission to the Society is $2. Active members pay an annual assessment of $2. Junior members pay only the admission fee. Corresponding and honorary members are exempt from the payment of all dues; and as a mark of distinction for long-continued service in the profession, by special action of the Society the dues of an active member may be remitted.

The annual meeting of the Society is held in Boston, on the second Thursday in December, and is of two days' continuance. The semi-annual meeting is held at such time, and in such town or city in Massachusetts other than Boston, as may be determined by the Society. Ten active members are necessary to constitute a quorum.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

The object of the College is to provide the means of a systematic education; to regulate the instruction of apprentices; to promote a spirit of pharmaceutical investigation, and to diffuse information among the members of the profession; to discountenance the sale of spurious, adulterated, and inferior articles; to regulate the business, as far as practicable, and consistent with our social institutions; to cherish habits of friendly intercourse; and in general to advance the character and interests of the profession.

Any adult person, of correct moral deportment, who shall have been actively engaged as a wholesale druggist, or a dispensing apothecary, for the term of four years, either as principal or clerk, may be admitted as a member of the college. In order to his admission, he must be proposed, in writing, by two members, at a stated meeting of the Board of Trustees, and be balloted for at the succeeding meeting of the same. Three-fourths of the votes shall be necessary for his admission. He must pay an admission fee of $5, and sign the By-Laws of the College, and shall pay an annual contribution of $5 as long as he shall continue a member.

Graduates of the school of the College of Pharmacy are eligible to membership under the same regulations as other Pharmacists.

Honorary members may be elected by the Society on recommendation of the Board of Trustees.

The stated meetings of the College are held at 8 Boylston Street, Boston, on the first Monday of March, June, September, and December, at 3 o'clock, P.M. Ten members constitute a quorum.

The Board of Trustees meet statedly on the first Thursday of each month, at 4 P.M.

Massachusetts Medical Benevolent Society.

The organization of this Society dates from 1857; in 1871, it received an act of incorporation from the Legislature of Massachusetts. It has for its object the relief of its members, or of their families, should they need assistance; and of such other members of the medical profession or their families as may be deemed by the Society suitable objects of its beneficence.

It includes in its list of members physicians from all parts of the State. The Council of the Society, to whom are intrusted the care of the funds and the distribution of its charities, are desirous of making the Institution more widely useful, by extending its assistance to a larger number of beneficiaries. In order to widen the circle of their charities, they desire to add largely to their numbers; and physicians, who may be willing to aid a charity of such importance, are invited to become its members. It is also desirable that cases of destitution among the members of the profession may be brought to the notice of the officers, so that measures may be at once taken for their relief.

The fee paid on entering the Society is $3; and the annual assessment is $2. The payment of $25 at one time, or of the annual assessment for twenty successive years, constitutes one a life-member, and at his option relieves him from future payments. The donation of $50 or more at one time entitles the donor to be inscribed among the Benefactors of the Society.

The annual meeting is held on the last Thursday in October of each year.

The Council holds its meetings on the last Thursday in January, April, and July.

Boston Medical Association.

A large number of the regular physicians of Boston are united in this Association, for the purpose of regulating the medical police of the city, and establishing the fee-table. It was organized in 1806 ; and, in 1808, adopted certain principles of government, which remain to-day, as the foundation of a code governing all regular practitioners established in the city.

The annual meeting of the Association is held at No. 36 Temple Place on the first Monday in May.

Each member pays the sum of $1 on joining the Association.

The fee-table of the Association is given at a later page of this volume.

The code adopted in 1808 is given in full: —

CONSULTATIONS.

Consultations should be encouraged in difficult and protracted cases, as they give rise to confidence, energy, and more enlarged views in practice. On such occasions, no rivalship or jealousy should be indulged; candor, justice, and all due respect, should be exercised towards the physician who first attended; and, as he may be presumed to be best acquainted with the patient and his family, he should deliver all the medical directions, as agreed upon. It should be the province, however, of the senior consulting physician to propose the necessary questions to the sick.

The consulting physician is never to visit without the attending one, unless by the desire of the latter, or when, as in sudden emergency, he is not to be found. No discussion of the case should take place before the patient or his friends; and no prognostications should be delivered, which were not the result of previous deliberation and concurrence. Theoretical debates, indeed, should generally be avoided in consultation, as occasioning perplexity and the loss of time; for there may be much diversity of opinion on speculative points, with perfect agreement on those modes of practice which are founded, not on hypothesis, but on experience and observation. Physicians in consultation, whatever may be their private resentments or opinions of one another, should divest themselves of all partialities, and think of nothing but what will most effectually contribute to the relief of those under their care.

If a physician cannot lay his hand to his heart, and say that his mind is perfectly open to conviction, from whatever quarter it may come, he should in honor decline the consultation.

All discussions and debates in consultations are to be held secret and confidential.

Many advantages may arise from two consulting together, who are men of candor, and have mutual confidence in each other's honor. A remedy may occur to one which did not to another; and a physician may want resolution, or a confidence in his own opinion, to prescribe a powerful but precarious remedy, on which, however, the life of his patient may depend: in this case, a concurrent opinion may fix his own. But when such mutual confidence is wanting, a consultation had better be declined, especially if there is reason to believe that sentiments delivered with openness are to be communicated abroad, or to the family concerned; and if in consequence of this, either gentleman is to be made responsible for the event.

The utmost punctuality should be observed in consultation-visits; and, to avoid loss of time, it will be expedient to establish the space of fifteen minutes, as an allowance for delay, after which the meeting might be considered as postponed for a new appointment.

INTERFERENCES.

Medicine is a liberal profession; the practitioners are, or ought to be, men of education; and their expectations of business and employment should be founded on their degrees of qualification, not on artifice and insinuation. A certain undefinable species of assiduities and attentions, therefore, to families usually employing another, is to be considered as beneath the dignity of a regular practitioner, and as making a mere trade of a learned profession; and all officious interferences, in cases of sickness in such families, evince a meanness of disposition, unbecoming the character of a physician or a gentleman. No meddling inquiries should be made concerning them, nor hints given relative to their nature and treatment, nor any selfish conduct pursued, that may, directly or indirectly, tend to weaken confidence in the physicians or surgeons who have the care of them.

When a physician is called to a patient, who has been under the care of another gentleman of the Faculty, before any examination of the case, he should ascertain whether that gentleman understands that the patient is no longer under his care; and, unless this be the case, the second physician is not to assume the charge of the patient, nor to give his advice, — excepting in instances of sudden attacks, — without a regular consultation; and if such previously attending gentleman has been dismissed, or has voluntarily relinquished the patient, his practice should be treated with candor, and justified so far as probity and truth will permit; for the want of success in the primary treatment of the disorder is no impeachment of professional skill and knowledge.

It frequently happens that a physician, in incidental communications with the patients of others, or with their friends, may have their cases stated to him in so direct a manner as not to admit of his declining to pay attention to them. Under such circumstances, his observations should be delivered with the most delicate propriety and reserve. He should not interfere in the curative plans pursued, and should even recommend a steady adherence to them, if they appear to merit approbation.

DIFFERENCES OF PHYSICIANS.

The differences of physicians, when they end in appeals to the public, generally hurt the contending parties; but, what is of more consequence, they discredit the profession and expose the Faculty itself to contempt and ridicule. Whenever such differences occur as may affect the honor and dignity of the profession, and cannot immediately be terminated, or do not come under the character of violation of the special rules of the Association otherwise provided for, they should be referred to the arbitration of a sufficient number of members of the Association, according to the nature of the dispute; but neither the subject-matter of such references, nor the adjudication, should, if it can be avoided, be communicated to the public, as they may be personally injurious to the individuals concerned, and can hardly fail to hurt the general credit of the Faculty.

DISCOURAGEMENT OF QUACKERY.*

The use of quack medicines should be discouraged by the Faculty as disgraceful to the profession, injurious to health, and often destructive even of life. No physician or surgeon, therefore, should dispense a secret nostrum, whether it be his invention or exclusive property; for, if it is of real efficacy, the concealment of it is inconsistent with beneficence and professional liberality; and, if mystery alone give it value and importance, such craft implies either disgraceful ignorance or fraudulent avarice.

CONDUCT FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE MEDICAL CHARACTER.

The esprit du corps is a principle of action founded in human nature, and, when duly regulated, is both rational and laudable. Every man, who enters into a fraternity, engages, by a tacit compact, not only to submit to the laws, but to promote the honor and interests of the Association, so far as they are consistent with morality and the

* At a meeting of the Councillors of the Massachusetts Medical Society, held February 3, 1858, the following resolutions were adopted: —

Resolved, That the Massachusetts Medical Society deem it dishonorable in its Fellows to append their names in any way recommendatory of secret or quack remedies, and any Fellow so exhibiting his name, shall be considered as acting in a manner derogatory to the dignity of a Fellow of this Society.

Resolved, That if any physician or chemist, through inadvertence or misapprehension, shall have been induced to give his recommendation or authority in any way to promote the circulation or sale of any secret or empirical medicine, he shall be expected publicly to disclaim or revoke the same.

Resolved, That the Fellows of the Massachusetts Medical Society regard with disapprobation and abhorrence all attempts to procure abortion, except in cases where it may be necessary for the preservation of the mother's life.

Resolved, That when any Fellow of this Society shall become cognizant of any attempt unlawfully to procure abortion, either by persons in the profession or out of it, it shall be the duty of such Fellow immediately to lodge information with some proper legal officer to the end that such information may lead to the exposure and conviction of the offender.

Resolved, That no person convicted of an attempt to procure criminal abortion can, consistently with its By-Laws, any longer remain a Fellow of this Society.

general good of mankind. A physician, therefore, should cautiously guard against whatever may injure the general respectability of the profession, and should avoid all contumelious representations of the Faculty at large, all general charges against their selfishness or improbity, or the indulgence of an affected or jocular scepticism concerning the efficacy and utility of the healing art.

FEES.

General rules are adopted by the Faculty, in every town, relative to the pecuniary acknowledgments of their patients; and it should be deemed a point of honor to adhere to them; and every deviation from, or evasion of, these rules should be considered as meriting the indignation and contempt of the fraternity.

Gratuitous services to the poor are by no means prohibited: the characteristical beneficence of the profession is inconsistent with sordid views and avaricious rapacity. The poor of every description should be the objects of our peculiar care. Dr. Boerhaave used to say they were his best patients, because God was their paymaster.

It is obvious, also, that an average fee, as suited to the general rank of patients, must be an inadequate compensation from the rich (who often require attendance not absolutely necessary), and yet too large to be expected from that class of citizens who would feel a reluctance in calling for assistance, without making some decent and satisfactory remuneration.

EXEMPTION FROM CHARGES.

All members of the medical profession, together with their families, should be attended gratuitously; but visits should not be obtruded officiously, as such civility may give rise to embarrassments, or interfere with that choice on which confidence depends.

But distant members of the Faculty, when they request attendance, should be expected at least to defray the charges of travelling.

Omission to charge, on account of the wealthy circumstances of the physician, is an injury to the profession, as it is defrauding, in a degree, the common funds for its support, when fees are dispensed with which might justly be claimed.

VICARIOUS OFFICES.

Whenever a physician officiates for another by his desire, in consequence of sickness or absence, if for a short time only, the attendance should be performed gratuitously as to the physician, and with the utmost delicacy towards the professional character of the gentleman previously connected with the patient.

SENIORITY.

A regular and academical education furnishes the only presumptive evidence of professional ability, and is so honorable and beneficial, that it gives a just claim to pre-eminence among physicians at large, in proportion to the degree in which it may be enjoyed and improved. Nevertheless, as industry and talents may furnish exceptions to this general rule, and this method may be liable to difficulties in the application, seniority among practitioners of this town should be determined by the period of public and acknowledged practice as a physician or surgeon in the same. This arrangement, being clear and obvious, is adapted to remove all grounds of dispute among medical gentlemen; and it secures the regular continuance of the established order of precedency, which might otherwise be subject to troublesome interruptions by new settlers, perhaps not long stationary in the place.

Boston Society for Medical Observation.

Originally organized April 14, 1835 ; discontinued in 1838, and revived March 17, 1846. The Society was formed on the plan of the Society for Medical Observation in Paris, of which Louis was president, "to make its members good observers of disease, to collect and arrange accurately recorded facts in furtherance of the cause of Medical Science, and to publish from time to time the results of the examination of such facts." The members are classed as Active, Associate, Honorary, and Corresponding.

The number of active members is limited to forty. Any member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, residing in Boston, is eligible as a member. Active or associate members of twenty years' standing may be elected honorary members. Corresponding members are elected from those who, having been active or associate members, have left the city, but still desire to retain their connection with the Society. Active and honorary members pay an annual assessment of six dollars; associate members, four dollars. The payment of fifty dollars at one time constitutes one a life-member.

The meetings are held at the Medical Rooms, in Temple Place, the first and third Monday in each month, with the exception of July, August, and September. Eight members, active or associate, constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Most of the leading European and American medical journals are taken by the Society, and are circulated among the active and honorary members. The Society has a considerable library of the journals taken for a number of years, which can be consulted at the rooms.

The annual meeting for the election of officers is held the first Monday in April. The semi-annual election of members takes place the first Monday in May and November.

Boston Society for Medical Improvement.

Incorporated March 20, 1839, for the purpose of improvement of its members in the different branches of medical science.

The meetings of the Society are held at the Medical Rooms, 36 Temple Place, on the second and fourth Monday in each month throughout the year. The annual meeting of the Society is held on the second Monday in January. New members are elected on the second Monday of April and October.

The Society has a valuable anatomical collection at its rooms, a catalogue of which has been published by the Curator, Dr. J. B. S. Jackson.*

The collection has recently been presented to the Medical School of Harvard University, and, as soon as suitable and safe accommodation can be furnished in the college building, will be removed to that place.

The scientific communications of the Society are published in the "Boston Medical and Surgical Journal," and also in pamphlet form.

Boylston Medical Society of Harvard University.

The Society was organized January 6, 1811, for the purpose of promoting emulation and inquiry among the students at the Medical School connected with Harvard University. It received an act of incorporation from the Legislature, June 13, 1823. The members are students attending the first term of the school, and are elected at any meeting of the Society, provided the candidate was proposed at the previous meeting by the Committee on Elections.

The meetings are held in the Library of the Medical College, at 8 o'clock, on Friday evenings during the first term, and at such times in the second term as the Society may decide. The President of the Society is a physician of regular standing, elected by the immediate members. The entrance fee is $2.

A printed catalogue of the Society is issued once in three years.

The Society is in possession of a fund, the gift of the late Ward Nicholas Boylston, M.D., the income of which is appropriated to prizes in the manner more fully described under an appropriate head, in a later part of the book. In accordance with the terms of incorporation, seven Trustees, who must be practising physicians, are annually appointed, who have the sole management and control of the permanent funds of the Society.

The prizes for the year 1874 were awarded to C. H. Williams, for an essay on "The Action of Bile in promoting the Absorption of Fats," and G. M. Garland for an essay on "Intestinal Juice."

Roxbury Society for Medical Improvement.

This Society was incorporated in 1867, and was organized for the mutual improvement of its members in the different branches of medical science. The members are divided into Active and Honorary, and are admitted by ballot after nomination by the Prudential Committee. Two negative votes exclude. Honorary and associate members are chosen in the same manner.

Each member gives to the Librarian a list of the medical books in his library, and, from time to time, of such books as he adds thereto, in order that other members may consult them when convenient. Each member is moreover required to supply each year at least one periodical, or a volume of recent publication, for circulation.

Meetings of the Society are held at the houses of the members on the fourth Wednesday of each month, except June, July, and August.

The annual meeting for the election of officers is held in April.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS AND KINDRED INSTITUTIONS.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS AND KINDRED INSTITUTIONS.

Medical Department of Harvard University.

Instruction in medicine, in Harvard University, is given in the College building in North Grove Street, Boston, by lectures, recitations, clinical teaching, and practical exercises uniformly distributed throughout the academic year. The year begins on the Wednesday following the last Thursday in September, and ends on the last Wednesday in June; it is divided into two equal terms, with a recess of one week between them. There is also a recess of one week at Christmas. Either of these two terms is more than equivalent to the former "Winter Session," as regards the amount and character of the instruction.

The course of instruction has been greatly enlarged, so as to extend over three years, and has been so arranged as to carry the student progressively and systematically from one subject to another in a just and natural order. In the studies of Anatomy, Histology, Chemistry, and Pathological Anatomy, laboratory work is substituted for or added to the usual didactic lectures, and is as much required of every student as attendance at lectures and recitations.

The studies in the regular course are thus divided: —

First year — Anatomy, Physiology, and General Chemistry.

Second year — Medical Chemistry, Materia Medica, Pathological Anatomy, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery and Clinical Surgery.

Third year — Therapeutics, Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery and Clinical Surgery.

The following methods of instruction are adopted in the several departments : —

Anatomy — Lectures; various practical exercises, including abundant dissection under the direction of the Demonstrator; recitations from text-books; and histology.

Physiology — Lectures, recitations, and practical demonstrations in the laboratory.

Chemistry is taught mainly by practical work in the laboratory, each student having his own desk and apparatus. General chemistry is taught in the first term, and qualitative analysis in the second term, of the first year. Besides the laboratory work, there is a lecture and recitation every week. In the second year medical chemistry is taught by lectures and laboratory work.

Pathological Anatomy is taught by lectures, recitations, and practical instruction in pathological histology. The collection of the Warren Anatomical Museum is used to illustrate the lectures, and many morbid specimens are shown in a fresh state. Students also receive practical instruction in the method of making autopsies, to which they are admitted at both hospitals. Special classes in pathological histology, including the diagnosis of tumors, are formed; students being provided with a microscope and required to prepare the various objects.

The Theory and Practice of Medicine — Lectures, recitations, and hospital visits.

Clinical Medicine — Daily instruction is given in this department by hospital visits and other exercises. Students are furnished with cases for personal examination, and are called upon to report them before the class, where they are criticised. These examinations are held both in the wards and in the amphitheatre. Another exercise, known as the " Clinical Conference," affords an opportunity for more thorough preparation of cases, more time being allowed for their study. The full written report of a case is read by the student who has examined it. It is afterwards criticised by the class, by the Professor of Clinical Medicine, and other teachers in the school. In addition to this, a regular course of supplementary instruction is given in Auscultation and Percussion, and in Laryngoscopy. These exercises afford students an abundant opportunity for acquiring a thoroughly practical knowledge of these methods of exploration.

Surgery — Lectures and recitations. There are also courses of surgical anatomy, minor surgery, surgical histology, bandaging and operative surgery. In the latter, third-year students are supplied with material for repeating the usual surgical operations.

Instruction in clinical surgery is given at the Massachusetts General Hospital and City Hospital.

Materia Medica and Therapeutics — Materia Medica is taught by recitations, lectures, and practical demonstrations.

Therapeutics, or the physiological action of drugs and their application to disease, are taught in the third year by lectures.

Obstetrics — Lectures and recitations. Students are instructed in the usual operations on the manikin, and have opportunities to take charge of cases of midwifery.

Diseases of Women and Children — Lectures.

Mental Diseases — Lectures.

Ophthalmology — A complete course is delivered upon the diseases of the eye.

Dermatology is taught by lectures and clinical illustration. The large number of out-patients at the Massachusetts General Hospital furnish ample opportunities for illustration.

Syphilis — Recitations and clinical instruction.

Otology — Lectures and clinical instruction.

Laryngoscopy — Lectures and Demonstrations.

Diseases of the Nervous System — Lectures, with demonstrations, at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Students are divided into three classes, according to their time of study and proficiency.

Students may be admitted to advanced standing in the regular course, but all who apply for admission into the second or third year's class must pass an examination in the branches already pursued by the class to which they seek admission, and furnish a satisfactory certificate of time spent in medical studies. No student shall advance with his class, or be admitted to advanced standing, until he has passed the required examination in the studies of the year, or a majority of them; nor shall he become a member of the third class until he has passed all the examinations of the first, in addition to a majority of those of the second year.

Students who do not intend to offer themselves for a degree will also be received at any part of the course for one term or more ; or in a single department, by paying such fees as may be agreed upon.

All the subjects of the whole three years' course will be taught every year, so that a student who is unable to remain in the School throughout the course may nevertheless in any one year get the benefit of all the instruction given in any of the subjects.

Course for Graduates — For the purpose of affording to those already Graduates of Medicine additional facilities for pursuing clinical, laboratory, and other studies, in such subjects as may specially interest them, the Faculty has established a course which comprises the following branches: Physiology, Medical Chemistry, Pathological Anatomy, Surgery, Auscultation, Percussion and Laryngoscopy, Ophthalmology, Otology, Dermatology, Syphilis, Psychological Medicine, Electro-therapeutics, Gynæcology, and Obstetrics.

Those pursuing this course may elect the studies to which they will give their attention, and allot the time they will devote to each. On payment of the full fee, they will have the privilege of attending any of the other exercises of the Medical School, the use of its laboratories and library, and all other rights accorded by the University. They will be exempt, unless at their option, from examinations. Graduates of other medical schools who may desire to obtain the degree of M.D. at this University will be admitted to examination for this degree after a year's study in the Graduates' Course.

The fees for the Graduates' Course are the same as those given below; the fees for single courses will be given on application to the Secretary of the Faculty.

Members of any one department of Harvard University have a right to attend lectures and recitations in any other department without paying additional fees.

Any student of the School may obtain, without an examination, a certificate of his period of connection with the School.

Instead of the customary oral examination for the degree of Doctor of Medicine, held at the end of the three years' period of study, a series of examinations on all the main subjects of medical instruction has been distributed for regular students through the whole three years. Every candidate for the degree must pass a satisfactory examination in every one of the principal departments of medical instruction at some time during his period of study.

The regular examinations are held in the following order: —

At the end of the first year: Anatomy, Physiology, and General Chemistry.

At the end of the second year: Medical Chemistry, Materia Medica, and Pathological Anatomy.

At the end of the third year: Therapeutics, Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, and Clinical Surgery.

The examinations are held at the end of each year in June, but others will also be held a week before the opening of the School in September. There is also an examination at the close of the first term in February; but is open only to students joining the School at that time, and to those who have failed at previous examinations. In 1874–75 examinations will begin.

Examinations will be conducted mainly by questions and answers upon paper. No student will receive his degree until he has passed a satisfactory examination in all the above-mentioned subjects, and presented a certificate from the Demonstrator of Anatomy that he has satisfactorily dissected the three parts of the body. Those who fail in any subject may present themselves in that subject again at the next regular examination.

The following are the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Every candidate must be twenty-one years of age and of good moral character; must give evidence of having studied medicine three full years; have spent at least one continuous year at this School; have presented a satisfactory thesis; and have passed the required examinations.

The Commencement of the Medical School will occur in June at Cambridge, in common with that of other departments of the University.

Fees, for Matriculation, $5.00; for a year, $200.00; for either term, $120.00; for graduation, $30.00. Use of Library and attendance on Hospitals and Dispensary, free.

Other information regarding the School will be given by the Secretary of the Faculty, R. H. Fitz, M.D., 108 Boylston Street, Boston.

Dental Department of Harvard University.

The Dental School corresponds in the times and in many of the lectures to those of the Medical School.

This School offers superior advantages, in that, while the instruction will be no less thorough in those departments peculiar to Dentistry, it gives the student unusual facilities for the study of Anatomy, Physiology, Surgery, and Chemistry; as the dental student pursues the same course in them as is required of the medical student, and in common with him has free access to the hospitals of the city, to the Microscope Room, the Chemical and Physiological Laboratories, the Dissecting Rooms, Library, and Museum of the Medical College, and the University Lectures. The last are special courses, delivered by men eminent in their departments, and embrace a wide range of medical and collateral branches.

The establishment of the School in Boston secures to it, in connection with the Medical Department, those advantages for clinical instruction which are found only in large cities.

The Professors teach by lectures, recitations, and clinics; and, under the direction of Demonstrators, patients are assigned to the students, who thus have an opportunity of operating at the chair, and becoming familiar by actual practice with all operations demanded of the dental practitioner.

Instruction in this School is given throughout the academic year, and is divided into two equal terms. The first, or Winter Term, commences on the last Thursday in September, and continues till February. After a recess of one week the Spring Term commences, and continues till the last Wednesday in June. There is also a recess of one week at Christmas. Attendance upon the Winter Term only is required for graduation.

The Spring Term is designed as an equivalent, entirely or in part, to pupilage with private preceptors, and affords better and more comprehensive instruction than can possibly be obtained in a private office. Operative and Mechanical Dentistry are taught daily by practical work in the Infirmary and Laboratory. Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, and Surgery are taught as fully as during the Winter Term. Practical Anatomy is taught in the Dissecting Room till May.

Operative Dentistry — The instructions in this department are both didactic and practical. The Professor and assistants endeavor to demonstrate all known methods of performing operations upon the teeth and other tissues involved.

The development of the teeth, treatment of irregularities, origin and treatment of decay, materials used for filling teeth, the most improved instruments used in operating, &c., are appropriately treated of. Clinics are held at the Infirmary, and every available means used to make the student practically acquainted with all the modern improvements of this important branch of Dental Science.

Dental Pathology and Therapeutics — The instruction from this chair embraces the application of the general principles of medicine to the specialty of dentistry; the therapeutical agents used in dentistry; the various pathological conditions of the dental and contiguous tissues; the relative liability of teeth to disease; the predisposing and exciting causes and the chemistry of dental caries; the pathology and treatment of sensitive dentine; of pulpitis; of periodontitis; and of alveolar abscess. A course of lectures on some special subjects relating to dental pathology and therapeutics is delivered during the winter by the University lecturer in this department. The lectures are illustrated, not only by the aid of the collection of pathological specimens belonging to the School, but also by models and diagrams.

Instruction is also given in microscopy as applied to dental histology; a valuable collection of microscopical objects being used to illustrate the formation and structure of the dental tissues.

Mechanical Dentistry — Includes lectures and practical work in the laboratory; the manner in which mineral teeth are constructed to meet all cases, both special and general; the principles and method of carving and furnace work, and all compounds used for artificial teeth; also metallurgy, and the manner in which gold and silver plates are prepared and adapted to the mouth; the use of rubber and other articles as bases. It is the aim of the Professor to teach not only the mere mechanical process of dentistry, but that combination of art with mechanism which enables the practitioner to effect so much in restoring the symmetry of the face and usefulness of the teeth where they have been lost or impaired by accident or disease.

The lectures, strictly dental, and the laboratory exercises, are held in the house No. 50 Allen Street. For the accommodation of the Mechanical Department an excellent laboratory has been prepared, with room for from forty to fifty students, each having his own drawer with its lock and key. Ample arrangements have also been made for the full demonstration of the manufacture of mineral teeth. On the same floor is a lecture-room, capable of seating from seventy to eighty students.

The lectures, attended in common with the medical students, are delivered in the Medical College in North Grove Street.

The Infirmary, which is a department of the Massachusetts General Hospital, remains open, and the Demonstrator is in attendance at the out-patients' room, daily at two o'clock, throughout the year, offering to students unsurpassed facilities for acquiring practical knowledge and manipulative dexterity. Upwards of five thousand operations have been performed upon thirty-six hundred patients the past year.

Requirements for a Degree—The degree of Doctor of Dental Medicine (Dentariæ Medicinæ Doctor) may be conferred upon each candidate of adult age, of good moral character, who shall have pursued his professional studies three years under competent instructors, and attended two full courses in this institution; except that a certificate of attendance upon one course of lectures in any respectable dental or medical college may be considered a substitute for the first course; provided such candidate maintain a thesis, and undergo an examination to the satisfaction of the Faculty, and convince the Professors of Operative and Mechanical Dentistry of his ability to meet satisfactorily the requirements of his art. He must also deposit with the Dean, to be placed in the Museum of the College, a specimen of mechanical dentistry, or of practical or pathological anatomy, prepared during the course under the eye of the instructor.

Graduates of other dental schools who desire to obtain the Dental Degree of this University will be admitted to examination after attendance upon one winter course of instruction.

The regular commencement of the Dental School occurs in June, at Cambridge, in common with the other departments of the University.

Fees, for Matriculation (paid but once), $5.00; summer session, $50.00; winter session, $110.00; for a year, $150.00; for graduation, $30.00. Use of Library and attendance on Hospitals and Dispensaries, free.

Other information, regarding the School, will be given by the Dean, Dr. T. H. Chandler, 222 Tremont Street, Boston.

Boston Dental College.

Incorporated June 3, 1868, for the advancement of Dental Science and Art, by means of lectures, clinical instruction, library, and museum. It is authorized by the Legislature to confer the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery.

In this institution all branches of the dental and collateral sciences are taught, so far as they can be made available to the dentist. Every endeavor is used to make the course scientific and practical, by demonstration and experiment. Instruction is given by a corps of competent professors throughout the winter months, commencing November 1. This course includes Dental Science and Operative Dentistry, with careful instruction, not only in the rudiments of dentistry, but in their application to the various operations on the teeth, the preparation and filling of cavities, the use of anæsthetics, &c.; Mechanical Dentistry, taught in the lecture-room and the laboratory, with the manufacture and mounting of teeth; Anatomy and Physiology, and the principles and practice of Surgery, with especial reference to the parts about the oral cavity; the principles of Chemistry, so far as are practicable and necessary for the practical dentist; and Pathology and Dental Therapeutics.

The exercises of the College are held in the building 65 Dover Street, corner of Shawmut Avenue, Boston. The College is there furnished with all the necessary and most approved modern appliances requisite for dental instruction. In the same building is the Infirmary, which is open daily during the session, where every character of dental operation will be performed and demonstrated, and opportunities given for the student to operate.

The students of the College are permitted to visit the wards of the Massachusetts General and City Hospitals.

Requirements for a Degree. — In order to obtain the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery, the candidate must have passed a satisfactory examination by the Faculty; must be of good moral character, and twenty-one years of age; must have devoted three years to the study of dentistry with a practitioner of dental surgery who shall be approved by the Faculty, including two full courses of lectures. He must deliver to the Dean, three weeks before the end of the term, a thesis, written by himself, on some subject pertaining to dentistry, and be prepared to defend the same at his examination; also a specimen of mechanical dentistry, which, properly labelled, shall be preserved in the Museum. One course in any reputable dental or medical college, or five years' dental practice, will be accepted as equivalent to one course in this College.

Candidates for admission to the College must pass a satisfactory examination by the Dean.

On graduation alumni are eligible to election by the Board of Trustees as Fellows of the College.

Fees — Matriculation fee (paid but once), $5.00; full course, $100.00; graduation, $30.00.

Payment to be made at the beginning of the session.

Other information regarding the College will be given by the Dean, J. A. Follett, M.D., 219 Shawmut Avenue, Boston, Mass.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

The lectures of the School of Pharmacy, under the control of the College of Pharmacy, are delivered during the winter season at No. 8 Boylston Street. The lectures of the eighth session of the school, for 1874–75, will commence on the second Monday of October, 1874.

The course comprises thorough and practical instruction by means of lectures, experiments, specimens, models, and diagrams in the departments of Chemistry, Botany and Materia Medica, and Theory and Practice of Pharmacy. Ample accommodations are provided for the wants of the school, and students will have free access to the library and cabinets of the College.

No examination is required for admission to the Junior Class, but no student will be admitted to the Senior Class until he has passed the Junior examination at the close of the sessions.

Every person upon whom the diploma of Graduate in Pharmacy of this College shall be conferred must be of good moral character, must have arrived at the age of twenty-one years, have attended two courses of each of the lectures delivered in the College, or one course in this College, and one course in some other recognized college of pharmacy, or, when no such college exists in his locality, in some other recognized (medical) college where the same branches are taught; and have served an apprenticeship of at least four years with some person or persons qualified to conduct the business of a pharmacist, of which fact he must produce satisfactory evidence to the board of examiners. He must also produce an original dissertation, or thesis, upon some subject of pharmacy, materia medica, chemistry, or one of the branches of science closely connected therewith. The thesis, with the evidence of apprenticeship and diploma fee, shall be deposited with one of the Faculty on or before the first of March of the session in which the application shall be made. He must also be recommended in writing by the professors; and if his application be finally approved of by the Board of Trustees, he shall receive the diploma of the College. The regular examination for the degree takes place in April.

Only such students as may have served their time in dispensing stores will be entitled to the degree of Graduate in Pharmacy. Clerks from wholesale drug stores will receive a certificate of proficiency, and will not be examined in extemporaneous pharmacy. Medical students and others who are not looking forward to Pharmacy as their calling, will be admitted to the lectures in any of the departments they may wish. Such persons will be ineligible to the degree, but will in other respects have the same advantages as regular students of Pharmacy. The reason for this distinction is, that the art of dispensing medicines can only be properly learned by long practice at the dispensing counter; lectures, however good, are only valuable aids to practical instruction, and utterly fail to make a good dispenser in the absence of careful, practical training under the supervision of a competent preceptor.

Fees — For each Professor's ticket, $15.00; Matriculation ticket (for Juniors only), $4.00; Diploma fee, $10.00. Students employed by members of the College are required to pay but $2.00 Matriculation. Students who have attended two full courses of lectures are exempt from further payments.

Both Senior and Junior students must obtain their Matriculation tickets before the third Monday in October, and register their names and addresses with the Secretary of the Board of Trustees, S. A. D. Sheppard, corner of Dover and Washington Streets, Boston. The Lecture tickets may be obtained from the Professors in their respective departments, and must be paid for before the first of December, 1874.

Other information concerning the School may be obtained of Professor G. F. H. Markoe, Corresponding Secretary of the Faculty, corner of Warren and Dudley Streets, Roxbury, Boston.

HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES.

HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES.

Massachusetts General Hospital.

Blossom Street, Boston.

Incorporated February 25, 1811; opened for the reception of patients September 3, 1821. From that time until December 31, 1873, an aggregate of 41,647 persons have been treated as in-patients, and since the year 1847, 109,647 as out-patients.

This institution, with the exception of the Pennsylvania Hospital, is the oldest establishment of its kind in the country. During the first year of its existence, it received substantial aid from the State, but, with this exception, it has been entirely supported by voluntary contributions from citizens of Boston and its neighborhood.

During the past year two new pavilion wards have been constructed of iron and wood on the grounds of the Hospital. These buildings are called the Jackson and Warren Wards respectively, in memory of the valuable services of the late Drs. James Jackson and J. Mason Warren.

The Hospital has 215 beds. Patients suffering from medical or surgical diseases or injuries are received from any part of the United States or the Provinces. Chronic or incurable cases and such as need only the comforts of a home are, as a rule, refused admission. No contagious diseases are admitted. Application for admission must be made to the Resident Physician at the Hospital, between 9 and 10 A.M., Sundays excepted. In urgent cases, application may be made at other times. The price of board varies from $4.50 to $56.00 per week. Five weeks' board must be advanced upon entering (any balance due being refunded), or an obligation with surety for its payment must be furnished. Out-patients are treated from 9 to 10 A.M., Sundays excepted. Friends may be admitted to see patients in the wards on each day in the week from 11½ to 12½; but no patient in any ward can receive more than one visitor a day.

During the year ending December 31, 1873, there were treated at the hospital 1,700 in-patients, of which number, 1,201 were discharged well or relieved. The average number of patients was 156, and the average cost per patient, $10.85 per week. Besides those classed as in-patients, 13,517 persons were treated as out-patients in the medical, surgical, and dental departments.

In the Dental Department of the Hospital, which is open to the students of the Dental School of Harvard University, during the year ending December 31, 1873, 1,359 patients had teeth filled, 1,501 had teeth extracted, and 1,067 had other operations. Patients in this department are treated each day at 2 P.M.

Students connected with the Medical and Dental Schools are admitted to the clinical visits of the physicians and surgeons. Abundant opportunity is offered for becoming practically acquainted with disease in its various forms, and of witnessing surgical operations. Operations are performed during the winter, on Saturday, at 11 A.M., and during the summer on Wednesday and Saturday at the same hour. The operating theatre is provided with seats for 400 persons.

In April of each year two house pupils are appointed in the medical and four in the surgical department. They are selected from the students of the Medical School, and enter on their duties in August.

A valuable medical library, including particularly many large and expensive works not generally found in private libraries, is connected with the institution, for the use of the medical staff.

A new edition of the History of the Hospital, by the late N. I. Bowditch, Esq., for which a fund was provided by his will, was issued in 1872, under the editorial care of Rev. George E. Ellis, D.D., one of the Trustees.

The report of the Hospital is published annually.

The Warren Prize, founded by the late Dr. J. Mason Warren, in memory of his father, Dr. John C. Warren, is described on a later page of this volume.

The ambulance of the Hospital, accompanied by a medical officer, is despatched to any point within the city proper, north of Dover and Berkeley Streets, for the conveyance of cases of accident, or urgent sudden sickness, not contagious, to the Hospital, or elsewhere, upon notice from a physcian, the police, or other responsible source, subject to the approval of the Resident Physician. In cases requiring gratuitous treatment, no charge is made.

McLean Asylum for the Insane.

Washington Street, Somerville.

The McLean Asylum is a branch of the Massachusetts General Hospital, and is under the control of its board of officers. It was opened for the reception of patients October 6, 1818. It received its name from John McLean, who, at his decease, bequeathed the sum of $100,000 to the Institution. From the date of its opening to December 31, 1873, 5,904 patients had been received. During the last year, 256 patients have been treated, of whom 19 were discharged recovered, and 45 much improved, or improved. The weekly average number of patients was 165. Rate of board from $15 to $50 per week. The report of the Asylum is published annually in connection with that of the Hospital.

City Hospital.

Harrison Avenue, between Concord and Springfield Streets, Boston.

As early as the year 1849, before the cholera, then epidemic, had disappeared, the expediency of establishing a city hospital was discussed; and a committee of the City Council reported favorably upon a project of continuing the Fort Hill Hospital, as a means of alleviating the pains of "those who suffer in their uncomfortable and often miserable homes when sick," but who could not enter the Massachusetts General Hospital, and who would not go to the Almshouse. The physicians of the city urged the adoption of this project as a temporary expedient: the Board of Aldermen passed the necessary order for its accomplishment, but it was rejected by the Common Council.

No further steps were taken for the establishment of a hospital till the year 1856, when petitions were signed generally by the members of the medical profession, urging the foundation of such an institution. The building known as the Lying-in Hospital, in Springfield Street, was purchased for the purpose; but the city government was forced to abandon it for use as a hospital.

In 1860, the Mayor, Hon. F. W. Lincoln, Jr., renewed the appeal of his predecessors in office, to the City Council. In accordance with his suggestion, the land on which the Hospital now stands was appropriated to the purpose, and the building erected. The institution was opened for the reception of patients June 1, 1864.

The Hospital has 250 beds, and is intended for the treatment, gratuitously, of those residents of the city of Boston who require temporary relief during sickness, and are unable to pay for treatment. Other persons are received on the payment of such sums as may be determined by the Board of Trustees. Applications for admission may be made at the Hospital by the patient in person, on any day of the week, Sunday excepted, between 9 and 11 A.M. Persons accidentally wounded, or otherwise disabled or injured, are received at all hours. Friends are allowed to visit patients on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday from 2 to 3 P.M.

Students are admitted to the clinical visits of the physicians on Tuesday at 9 A.M., and to the surgical clinic on Tuesday and Friday, at 10 A.M. An ophthalmic clinic is held by Dr. Williams or Dr. Wadsworth, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, at 9 A.M.; an aural clinic by Dr. Green on the same days and hour; and a clinic on diseases of the skin by Dr. Damon, on Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday, at 11 A.M. Women suffering from the diseases incident to their sex are treated on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, from 9 to 11 A.M. Operations are performed in the amphitheatre before physicians and students, on Friday, at 11 A.M.

Two assistant surgeons to out-patients are appointed each year, and enter on their duties on the first Monday in April.

In May of each year, four house physicians, three house surgeons, and two ophthalmic assistants are appointed by competitive examination. They enter on their duties the first Monday in July.

The report of the Hospital is published annually. In 1869, the Trustees, aided by the members of the medical staff, published a report including valuable statistical tables and scientific papers relating to the practice of the Hospital for the first five years of its existence.

During the year ending April 30, 1874, there were treated in the Hospital 3,435 patients, with a daily average of 223. The rate of mortality was $8\frac{2}{10}$ per cent. Besides the patients who received medical and surgical care as internes, 9,272 cases were treated as out-patients: viz., medical, 2,901; surgical, 3,226; ophthalmic, 2,005; diseases of the ear, 383; diseases of the skin, 757.

24 McLean Street, Boston.

Organized in 1832, for the relief of poor and deserving women during confinement. The first building for the use of the Hospital was situated on Washington Street, near the present site of Rollins Street. In 1853, the corporation bought 40,000 feet of land on Springfield and Worcester Streets, on which the building, now used by the Home for Aged Men, was erected.

For several years prior to 1872 the Hospital had not, by itself, furnished the accommodation for lying-in women for which its charter provided; the objects of the institution were, however, carried out by the annual contribution of $1,000 to the New England Hospital for Women and Children, at which place the same class of patients was cared for. This donation ceased in 1871, and in January, 1873, the Board of Trustees opened the present house, with accommodations for 18 patients.

Urgent cases are received at any time. Whenever it is possible, application for admission must be made to the attending physician at the Hospital, at least one week before the expected date of confinement, between 10 and 11 o'clock on any week day.

A few free cases are taken. The lowest rate of board is $20 for the two weeks next succeeding confinement, and, except for special reason, no case will be kept longer than that after confinement. Patients taken at the Hospital prior to confinement will be charged one dollar a day for board, and expected to perform any light duty required of them.

The two weeks' board must be paid upon entrance, or an obligation with surety for its payment must be furnished, and in no case will any portion of this sum be refunded, should the patient leave the Hospital before the expiration of the two weeks.

The position of House Physician is filled by third year medical students.

Relatives may be admitted to visit patients on each day of the week, except Sunday, from 3 to 4 P.M.

[The Hospital described above, founded in 1832, is not to be confounded with an institution, bearing a somewhat similar name, situated on Kendall Street in Boston, which is conducted by persons not members of the Massachusetts Medical Society.]

Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary.

176 Charles Street, Boston.

This institution owes its origin to Drs. Edward Reynolds and John Jeffries, who, in November, 1824, opened a small room in Scollay's Building as a dispensary for the gratuitous treatment of the poor afflicted with diseases of the eye. In March, 1826, the success of their efforts had been such that their dispensary was regularly organized as the Boston Eye Infirmary. A month later, it was incorporated by the State Legislature under its present title. It was soon after removed to Court Street, and six years later to the Gore Mansion in Green Street, where it remained till 1850. It was then removed to the building now occupied in Charles Street, which was dedicated July 3 of that year.

The Infirmary receives all patients with diseases of the eye and ear, making application for treatment. More than 6,000 patients are annually treated. The Infirmary is open daily, except Sunday, from 9 to 11 A.M. Patients who require admission as boarders may be received on payment of at least $5 per week; three weeks' board must be paid in advance. All applications for admission must be made to the Superintendent at the Infirmary, at 9 A.M. The number of beds is 39; 19 being devoted to men, and 20 to women.

Patients may be visited by their friends daily, except Sunday, between 11 and 12.

Physicians are invited to attend the practice of the surgeons, any day, from 9 to 11 o'clock. Students are admitted on Monday and Friday, throughout the year, from 9 to 11 o'clock. Clinical instruction is given to physicians and students by the members of the staff.

Annual meeting of the Corporation the last Thursday in October. The Board of Managers meet on the first Tuesday of November, February, May, and August.

Boston Lunatic Hospital.

First Street, South Boston.

The building for the use of this Institution was commenced in 1837, and completed in November, 1839. It was enlarged by the addition of two wings in 1846. It occupies, including the yards and garden, about four and a half acres of land. The Hospital was, at first, intended particularly for the benefit of the insane of Boston; but for many years certain of the State pauper insane were accommodated there. None now remain, however; and since December, 1871, not only these, but the city insane, have been sent by the Judge of Probate to the State Hospital at Taunton. The Hospital is under the management of the Board of Directors for Public Institutions. Office at 30 Pemberton Square.

Patients are committed to the Hospital under the Acts and Resolves of Massachusetts for 1862, chap. 223. (See laws and ordinances affecting physicians and others.)

On the 1st of May, 1874, there were 196 patients in the Hospital.

Superintendent and Physician — Clement A. Walker, M.D.

Assistant Superintendent — G. H. M. Rowe, M.D.

Deer Island Institutions — Hospital Department.

Boston Harbor.

The Hospital connected with the public institutions of Boston is located on Deer Island in Boston Harbor, with a branch at Rainsford Island. During the year ending May 1, 1874, there were admitted 2,270 patients; discharged, 2,195; and 62 remained. These patients were received from the City Almshouse, the House of Industry, and the House of Reformation for Juvenile Offenders. The Hospital is under the care of the Board of Directors for Public Institutions. Office at 30 Pemberton Square.

The Channing Home.

30 McLean Street, Boston.

Established in May, 1857, by Miss Harriet Ryan (the late Mrs. Albee), through the assistance of friends whom she had drawn into sympathy with her benevolent purpose. It was incorporated in 1861. This is not a Hospital in the common acceptation of the word, but a home for incurables, for those whose early death seems quite certain, or for those who will probably live for a long time, but needing constant medical attendance. Some of the patients have been inmates of the Home for many years, and no pay is taken from any of them.

Application for admission must be made to the matrons, at the Home. The Institution has accommodations for fourteen inmates. During the year ending April 1, 1874, 13 patients were admitted, 8 died, 5 were discharged, and 15 remained in the Home.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the second Wednesday in April. A report of the Home is published annually.

OFFICERS.

House of the Good Samaritan.

6 McLean Street, Boston.

Incorporated in 1860, for the care and treatment of sick women and girls, and of boys below six years of age, especially those suffering under diseases of long duration. Patients must make personal application at the House at 9 o'clock on any day except Sunday. Terms of admission free.

During the year ending December 31, 1873, 119 patients were treated in the Institution, making the whole number since the opening of the Institution 1,064. It is supported by voluntary contributions and from the income of its funds.

The annual meeting of the Association is held on the second Wednesday in March. Visitors are admitted from 11.30 to 12.30, and from 3.30 to 4.30, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

The report of the Hospital is published annually.

Carney Hospital.

Old Harbor Street, South Boston.

Established in June, 1863, and incorporated in 1865, for the purpose of affording relief to the sick poor. In 1868 a large and commodious brick structure was erected for the use of the sick. Both acute and chronic cases are received, contagious diseases excepted. The Institution is in charge of Romanist Sisters of Charity, but receives patients of all denominations.

Application for admission must be made at the Hospital.

The rate of board for pay-patients, treated in the wards, is $5 or $6 per week. The Hospital contains also a number of rooms for private patients, who pay from $10 to $25 a week. Patients occupying private rooms may be attended by their own physicians, so long as they conform to the rules of the Institution.

St. Ann's Infant Asylum and Lying-in Hospital.

Old Harbor Street, South Boston.

Founded by Romanist Sisters of Charity in September, 1868, and incorporated in September, 1870, as an institution for the maintenance and support of foundlings, orphan and half-orphan children. It also accommodates deserving, indigent females during their confinement in childbirth.

For the year 1872, 80 patients and 294 destitute infant children were received. It is now carried on in a part of the Carney Hospital, while a suitable place is to be secured for a separate institution.

Application should be made to the Sister Superior at the Institution.

St. Joseph's Home for Sick and Destitute Servant Girls.

45 East Brookline Street, Boston.

Incorporated in 1867, for the purposes of providing a home for, and otherwise aiding, sick and destitute servant girls. It includes under its organization a hospital for the treatment of diseases, especially those of an incurable character, and for women who have become exhausted and unwell while at their work, and need a temporary respite. The Institution has 90 beds; of which 24 are devoted to the hospital department. The Institution was organized by, and is under the charge of the Sisters of St. Francis. Application for admission must be made at the Home.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the second Tuesday in January.

OFFICERS.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

78 Waltham Street, Boston.

Established in 1867, by the Sisters of St. Francis, for the treatment of the medical and surgical diseases peculiar to women. It is especially intended for patients in moderate circumstances who can afford to pay only a low rate of board and moderate fees for medical attendance. The institution has 38 beds. Applications for admission must be made to the Sister Superior at the Hospital.

OFFICERS.

Consulting Physicians and Surgeons — W. G. Wheeler, M.D., H. R. Storer, M.D.

Attending Physicians — L. F. Warner, M.D., J. G. Blake, M.D., G. H. Bixby, M.D., S. L. Dutton, M.D., M. F. Gavin, M.D., F. E. Bundy, M.D.

The Children's Hospital.

1429 Washington Street, Boston.

The Hospital was founded in 1869, for the purpose of providing medical and surgical treatment for the diseases of children, and for the attainment and diffusion of knowledge regarding the diseases incident to childhood. It received an act of incorporation February 26, 1869.

Patients between the ages of 2 and 12, suffering from acute diseases, are received at the Hospital. No patient is admitted whose case is considered chronic or incurable, unless there be urgent symptoms, which, in the opinion of the medical staff, are capable of being relieved; nor will any be admitted having an infectious or contagious disease. Application for admission may be made any day at 9 A.M.; but accidents and other cases of an urgent character will be received at any time. The beds in the Hospital are free to those who are really poor; but a moderate charge is made to those who are able to pay. Patients from beyond the limits of the city will be received on payment of not less than $4 a week. The Hospital has 30 beds.

During the year ending December 27, 1873, 99 patients had been received at the Hospital; and since its organization, 377. Of these, 123 had been discharged, 46 of whom were well; 21 remained under treatment.

The immediate care of the Hospital and the nursing is intrusted to ladies connected with the Protestant Episcopal Sisterhood of St. Margaret's, from East Grinstead, England.

In the summer of 1874 the Hospital established a Sanitarium in the town of Weston, for the use of its convalescents.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held December 28th. A report of the Hospital is published annually.

St. Luke's Home.

7 Florence Street, Boston.

Organized October 18, 1870, and incorporated January 1, 1872, for the purpose of providing gratuitous medical treatment to women and children convalescent from disease, and to the poor in the neighborhood of the Home. In June, 1873, the Trustees opened a Sanitarium at Quisset, in the town of Falmouth, where patients can have the advantage of country air during the summer months.

In the Home, 13 patients can be accommodated. Private patients are admitted at the discretion of the physicians, on payment of board. During the year ending September 30, 1873, 96 patients were treated. Patients are admitted on application to the physician in attendance, either at the Home or at his residence. Friends of the patients are admitted on Friday from 3 to 5 P.M.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on St. Luke's Day. The Protestant Episcopal Sisters of St. Luke have the immediate care of the Home.

OFFICERS.

President — Pelham Williams.

Treasurer — F. C. Foster.

Secretary — Causten Browne.

Greenwood Institute.

Greenwood, Wakefield — Office, 18 Pemberton Square, Boston.

This Institution, situated at Greenwood, eight miles from Boston, on the Boston and Maine Railroad, was organized in June, 1870, for the reception and treatment of patients of either sex suffering from disease or derangement of the nervous system, caused by overtaxing the brain, by too sedentary habits, or the excessive or injudicious use of alcoholic or narcotic stimulants.

The terms for board and treatment are from $15 to $30 a week, varying according to the accommodations required for patients. In cases requiring extraordinary care and attention, there will be a proportionate extra charge. Payment required in advance. Patients are expected to remain at least three months, unless sooner cured.

Superintendent and Physician — Albert Day, M.D.

Washingtonian Home.

41 Waltham Street, Boston.

Organized in 1857, and incorporated in 1859, for the cure of inebriates who wish to reform.

Persons having a permanent home within the State, whose circumstances render it imperatively necessary, may be admitted to a free bed: all other persons will be charged for their board, according to their ability to pay, and the rooms, attendance, and accommodations furnished them. Application can be made to the Superintendent at the Home, at any hour. A recommendation by some responsible person is required.

The whole number of patients under charge from the opening of the Home until April 30, 1873, was 4,087; and the number for nineteen months preceding that date was 397. The Institution can furnish accommodations to forty inmates.

An annual report of the Home is published.

OFFICERS.

President — Otis Clapp.

Vice-Presidents — Albert Fearing, Moses Mellen, W. B. Spooner, William Claflin.

Treasurer — Daniel Allen.

Secretary and Superintendent — W. C. Lawrence.

Physician — O. W. Doe, M.D.

Charlestown Free Dispensary and Hospital.

21 Harvard Square, Charlestown, Boston.

The Charlestown Free Dispensary, which was organized April 25, 1872, in response to the suggestion of a physician of Charlestown, and opened May 1, was kept in operation for the reception and treatment of patients on three days of the week for the space of a year. In that time 685 patients had been treated. At meetings of the managers held in October and November, 1872, it was decided to ask for an act of incorporation, which would include a hospital when such an institution seemed desirable. The act was granted March 4, 1873.

Advice and treatment are given to patients in the Dispensary department on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 10 to 12 A.M.

OFFICERS.

Executive Committee — Henry Lyon, M.D., J. S. Whiting, M.D., C. F. Fairbanks.

Treasurer — B. F. Stacey.

Secretary — Gerald Wyman.

Superintendent — E. J. Forster, M.D.

Surgeons — E. J. Forster, M.D., M. A. Morris, M.D., J. J. McCarthy, M.D.

State Lunatic Hospitals.

Patients are admitted to the State Hospitals for the Insane under the laws enacted for the purpose (Acts and Resolves of Massachusetts, 1862: chap. 223). They are under the charge of the Board of State Charities. In the city of Boston, the business connected with the committal of insane persons is transacted through the Secretary of the Board of Directors for Public Institutions; office at 30 Pemberton Square.

NORTHAMPTON — At the close of the year ending September 30, 1873, there were 433 patients in the Hospital.

Superintendent — Pliny Earle, M.D.,
First Assistant Physician — E. B. Nims, M.D.
Second Assistant Physician — E. R. Spaulding, M.D.

WORCESTER — By the report of the Hospital for the year ending September 30, 1873, there were 469 patients in the Hospital. Rate of cost per week, $4.04.

Superintendent — B. D. Eastman, M.D.
Assistant Superintendent — John G. Park, M.D.
Assistant Physicians — Mary H. Stinson, M.D., H. M. Quinby, M.D.

By an act of the Legislature in 1870, the Trustees were authorized to purchase a new site for a Hospital and the erection of buildings thereon, capable of containing 400 patients, the whole not to exceed $575,000. A tract of land, comprising 275 acres, on the borders of Lake Quinsigamond, in the suburbs of Worcester, was purchased; and arrangements have already been made for converting it to the uses of the Hospital.

TAUNTON — By an act of the Legislature in May, 1873, the Trustees were authorized to erect two new wings to the Hospital, thereby greatly enlarging its capacity. September 30, 1873, there were 434 patients remaining under care. Weekly cost of patients, $3.76.

Superintendent — W. W. Godding, M.D.
Assistant Physician — W. H. Gage, M.D.

Danvers — In addition to the three Hospitals named, the Legislature has purchased the farm owned by Francis Dodge, in the town of Danvers, Essex county, for the purpose of erecting an additional Institution for the Insane. "The estate embraces about two hundred acres, commanding a varied and beautiful prospect, — the ocean in the distance on one side, the great mountain ranges on the other, and an intervale for many miles around filled with richly-cultivated farms and prosperous towns and villages. The hill is far enough from the town to prevent its being encroached upon by increase of population, at least for many years to come, is abundantly supplied with water, and is accessible by good highways, and branches of the Boston & Maine and Eastern Railroads which skirt its borders. With a moderate outlay, the situation, for which nature has done much, may be made the most attractive of all those now occupied by the public institutions of the Commonwealth.

"The new buildings are to be sufficient to accommodate four hundred patients, with the necessary officers and attendants; and the act establishing the Hospital appropriated the sum of $650,000 for the purpose."

Cambridge Hospital.

Organized in 1867, and incorporated in 1869, for sick and disabled persons, residents of Cambridge. The Hospital was first opened for the care of women and children; but it is hoped that it will be the beginning of a General Hospital for Cambridge for the treatment of both sexes. At present the Hospital is not in active operation; but its organization remains the same.

President — Isaac Livermore.
Vice-President — W. W. Wellington, M.D.
Treasurer — W. A. Bullard.
Secretary — R. O. Fuller.

United States Marine Hospital.

Chelsea.

The Hospital receives all patients needing treatment from the merchant marine service at Boston. It has accommodations for 100 patients.

The Marine Hospital Service of the United States was inaugurated in 1798. The Act of Congress under which the Service is at present conducted was approved June 20, 1870. It authorizes the collectors of customs at the ports of the United States to collect from the masters or owners of each vessel of the United States, arriving from a foreign port, or registered, enrolled, or licensed vessels employed in the coasting trade, the sum of forty cents per month for each and every seaman who shall have been employed on said vessel since she was last entered at any port of the United States, which sum the master or owner is authorized to collect or retain from the wages of said employés. The fund thus obtained is employed, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, for the care and relief of sick and disabled seamen. Fishing vessels and canal boats are not included.

The medical and surgical department is under the charge of a supervising surgeon, who is appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, to act under his direction. The Supervising Surgeon of the Marine Hospital Service at present is Dr. John M. Woodworth, Treasury Department, Washington, D.C.

The regulations for the government of the service, adopted in 1873, provide for the appointment, after examination by a board of surgeons, of surgeons and assistant surgeons, as is the case in the army and navy.

A seaman, to be entitled to relief from the Marine Hospital Fund, must have served on a registered or licensed vessel of the United States for at least three months just previous to his application for aid, and must have paid hospital dues for that period. To obtain relief, a sick or disabled seaman must apply to a collector or surveyor of customs, and furnish satisfactory evidence that he is entitled to such assistance.

The Marine Hospital for the Port of Boston was originally established at Charlestown in 1802; a second building was erected at Chelsea about 1822. The present building was commenced in 1856; its aggregate cost, to the present day, is $393,452.00.

The Marine Hospital at Chelsea offers special advantages to those wishing to study the diseases to which sailors are liable, especially those arising from venereal taint and from exposure to malarial and other influences. Students are allowed to visit the wards every day at 9 o'clock. Resident pupils are appointed, after a competitive examination, who enter on their duties in April.

Established in 1839, and supported by the manufacturing corporations of Lowell, for the benefit of the operatives in their employ.

Superintendent — Hermon J. Smith, M.D.

St. John's Hospital.

High Street Square, Lowell.

The Hospital was opened for the care of the needy poor of the city of Lowell, and especially such as work in the mills, under an act of incorporation, dated March 14, 1867.

Patients are admitted on the lowest possible terms, at from $5 to $10 per week. If patients are able to pay, they are expected to do so. No cases of infectious diseases, or confirmed insanity or inebriation, when known, are received. The nursing is supplied by Romanist Sisters of Charity. The Hospital has 60 beds. Friends of the sick are allowed to visit them on Sunday, from 1½ to 4; and on Tuesday and Thursday, from 1½ to 4, and from 6½ to 7½.

Visiting Physicians — J. O. Green, M.D., David Wells, M.D., Nathan Allen, M.D., Walter Burnham, M.D., C. A. Savory, M.D., Joel Spalding, M.D., D. P. Gage, M.D., F. C. Plunkett, M.D.

St. Joseph's Hospital.

Campbell and Pleasant Streets, New Bedford.

Opened for the reception of patients June 21, 1873. The Hospital is under the control of the Sisters of Mercy, and has beds for 10 patients.

Patients having means are required to pay four weeks' board in advance; females $6.00, and males $7.00 per week. Private rooms are provided for such as desire special accommodation.

Applications for admission are to be made at the Hospital between 9 and 10 daily. Chronic cases will not be retained longer than may be necessary for relief of urgent symptoms.

City Hospital.

Boston Road, Springfield.

Patients apply for admission to one of the Board of Trustees. A payment of $5.00 per week must be guaranteed for board and care. Patients supply physicians of their own choice, if able to pay, or can apply for the services of the city physician.

Worcester City Hospital.

Wellington and Chandler Streets, Worcester.

Incorporated by the Legislature May 25, 1871, and opened for the reception of patients October 26, in the same year. By the will of George Jaques, the first Secretary and the first benefactor of the Hospital, the city received, as residuary legatee of his estate, money and lands to the value of $250,000 or more, to be held in trust for the Hospital. At present the Hospital occupies Mr. Jaques's homestead. It has 16 beds. It is proposed to open a new pavilion ward at once.

Applications for the admission of patients may be made at the Hospital between 9 and 11 A.M., any day in the week. Patients able to pay for treatment are admitted at such rates of board as the Trustees determine. Two weeks' board must be secured in advance.

No patient is admitted whose case is considered incurable, unless there be urgent symptoms which can be relieved. No person having acute venereal disease, or any contagious disease, can be admitted to the Hospital.

Boston Dispensary.

Bennet and Ash Streets, Boston.

Founded in 1796, and incorporated in 1801. This was the first institution of the kind in Boston, and the third in the United States. No one of the charities of Boston is more modest in its demands, more silent in its work, or more useful in its deeds. It is supported entirely by funds heretofore contributed, and by private charity. It does not receive any support or assistance from the city. At present the operations of the Dispensary are extended only over those portions known as the city proper, East and South Boston. The remaining portions of the city are otherwise provided for. The Central Office is situated near the centre of population, and is convenient of access. It was opened for use in 1856, and now accommodates out-patients, who come for treatment between the hours of 9 and 12. Physicians are in attendance daily, who treat respectively men, women, children, and surgical cases. At 10 o'clock daily, dental patients are treated; at 11, those suffering from diseases of the skin; and at the same hour, cases of nervous diseases.

In addition to the service at the Central Office, the city is divided into nine districts; and to each one is assigned a physician, whose duty it is to care for those unable to leave their homes. Medicines are given out at the Central Office daily, from 8 A.M. to 7 P.M.; on Sundays, from 1 to 2 P.M.; and, on legal holidays, from 9 to 10 A.M.

Since July 1, 1856, 389,139 patients have been treated at the Central Office and in the districts. During the year ending October 1, 1873, 13,119 medical cases and 4,247 surgical cases were treated at the Central Office, and 9,982 cases in the districts, — an aggregate of 27,348 patients. The number of recipes given, 51,359. The average daily attendance at the Office was 120. The services of the staff are rendered gratuitously at the Central Office; in the districts, the physicians receive a moderate compensation.

Students are permitted to attend the practice of the physicians and surgeons, on Tuesday and Friday, at 9 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the second Thursday in October.

The annual report of the Dispensary is published in November.

Boston Dispensary for Skin Diseases.

241 Harrison Avenue, Boston.

The Dispensary was organized, and a building opened to the public, January 29, 1872. The object of the Institution is to supply, gratis, advice and medicines to such persons among the poorer classes as may be afflicted with any disease of the skin, and are unable, for any reason, to obtain suitable treatment elsewhere; and to advance the science of medicine as far as regards such diseases. The Dispensary is open Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, at 11.30 A.M. Patients who are able are required to purchase their own medicines; but those unable to do so are supplied gratuitously, subject to the discretion of the physician. Well-to-do sufferers, not properly the subjects for Dispensary treatment, especially those from the country, who are absolutely ignorant where to go for proper treatment, and therefore tend to fall an easy prey to the quack, are not treated, but are referred to reputable practitioners for advice.

During the year ending February 4, 1874, 516 patients had received advice and treatment. The number treated since the opening of the institution was about 1,300.

The Dispensary is supported solely by voluntary contributions [annual subscriptions]. Physicians in good standing, and medical students of both sexes, are admitted as visitors.

OFFICERS.

President — B. A. Gould.
Treasurer and Secretary — Henry Pickering.
Physician in Charge — Edward Wigglesworth, Jr., M.D.
Assistant Physician — W. P. Bolles, M.D.

Organized in 1873, for the treatment of the diseases peculiar to women.

Patients treated on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, at 9½ o'clock.

Physician — J. R. Chadwick, M.D.

Dispensary for Children.

18 Staniford Street, Boston.

Organized and opened November 8, 1873, for the treatment of the diseases incident to childhood.

Patients received on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday at 9.30 A.M.

Physician — C. P. Putnam, M.D.

Roxbury Dispensary.

This Institution, which was founded in 1841, has been merged in the Roxbury Charitable Society (founded in 1794), and its separate organization abandoned, its duties being discharged by the latter society.

OFFICERS.

Worcester Memorial Free Dispensary.

98 Front Street, Worcester.

Incorporated April 20, 1871, in accordance with provisions in the will of Ichabod Washburn.

A sum of money, the present value of which exceeds $150,000, was left to Trustees in the city of Worcester by the late Ichabod Washburn in 1869, with directions that, at the end of five years from his death, it should be expended in the foundation and maintenance of a hospital and dispensary in memory of his deceased daughters.

As the Washburn fund could not at once be made available, it was thought advisable to organize the Dispensary at an earlier date. Negotiations have since been entered into by which it is hoped that the Washburn legacy may be combined with that given to the city by the late George Jaques.

OFFICERS.

President — P. L. Moen.
Treasurer — J. D. Washburn.
Secretary — Stephen Salisbury, Jr.
Superintendent — Albert Wood, M.D.

BENEVOLENT AND CHARITABLE ASSOCIATIONS AND ASYLUMS.

BENEVOLENT AND CHARITABLE ASSOCIATIONS AND ASYLUMS.*

Perkins Institution and Massachusetts Asylum for the Blind.

East Broadway, South Boston.

Founded in 1828. Young blind persons, of good moral character, can be admitted to the Institution by paying $300 per annum. This sum covers all expenses, except for clothing; namely, board, washing, medicines, instruction, the use of books, musical instruments, &c. The pupils must furnish their own clothing, and pay their own fares to and from the Institution. The friends of the pupils can visit them whenever they choose.

Indigent blind persons, of suitable age and character, belonging to Massachusetts, can be admitted gratuitously by application to the Governor for a warrant. The form employed will be furnished and all inquiries will be answered, on application at the office and salesroom of the Institution, 20 Bromfield Street.

The number of inmates September 30, 1873, was 176. The valuation of the Institution is reported at $359,449.25.

Annual meeting of the Corporation in October. Visitors are admitted on Thursday.

* More extended information than is contained in this book concerning the private charities of the State, may be found in the tenth report of the Board of State Charities.

OFFICERS.

President — Samuel Eliot.
Vice-President — John Cummings.
Treasurer — Henry Endicott.
Director and Secretary — Samuel G. Howe, M.D.

Boston Asylum and Farm School for Indigent Boys.

Thompson's Island, Boston Harbor.

The Institution bearing this name was incorporated in 1835, and was formed by the union of two earlier organizations, the Boston Asylum for Indigent Boys and the Proprietors of the Boston Farm School. The first originated in 1813, and the second in 1832. Its object is to provide a good home for those boys who have lost one or both parents, and have no homes of their own. The boys are either received with the understanding that their board is to be paid, in which case they can be taken away at any time, or they are given up to the Farm School, and remain until such time as the Directors see fit to apprentice them where they can learn to support themselves. The usual number of boys is 100.

The annual meeting is held the second Tuesday in January.

The Committee on Admissions meets the first Tuesday in every month at 9 Doane Street, at 10 o'clock.

OFFICERS.

President — J. Ingersoll Bowditch.
Treasurer — C. P. Bowditch.
Secretary — George L. Deblois.
Superintendent — W. A. Morse.
Committee on Admissions — Stephen G. Deblois, John Homans, M.D., W. L. Richardson, M.D., W. B. Storer.

Temporary Home for the Destitute.

1 Pine Place, Boston.

This Institution is sustained by an organization formed in February, 1847, and due to the efforts of John Augustus, a poor shoemaker, and Eliza Garnaut, two benevolent citizens of Boston. It was incorporated in February, 1852, for the temporary reception of persons, over nine months of age, with the purpose of securing them permanent homes.

Lately a few infants have been received. Relief is gratuitous. No prescribed time or conditions of admission. Since the opening of the Home 5,000 persons have been cared for. The house will accommodate about 30.

The annual meeting is held in December.

OFFICERS.

President — T. T. Bouvé.
Vice-President — E. W. Hooper.
Treasurer — D. R. Whitney.
Clerk — John Ayres.

Massachusetts School for Idiotic and Feeble-Minded Youth.

Organized in 1848. Children of indigent parents in Massachusetts can secure gratuitous admission by application to the Governor. For others a small charge is made, proportionate to the means of the parents, and the trouble and cost of treating them. Forms for application, and information, furnished at the office of the Institution, 20 Bromfield Street.

The whole number of inmates since the opening of the Institution is 410; number of those in the School October 1, 1873, 119.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held in October.

OFFICERS.

President — S. G. Howe, M.D.
Vice-President — Emory Washburn.
Treasurer — F. W. G. May.
Secretary — Edward Jarvis, M.D.

Children's Mission to the Children of the Destitute.

277 Tremont Street, Boston.

Organized 1849, and incorporated April, 1864, to foster in the minds of the young a spirit of Christian sympathy and active benevolence, and to adopt such measures as shall rescue from vice and degradation the morally exposed children of the city. Destitute children, of either sex, between five and thirteen years of age, are received for adoption, or for temporary residence in worthy families. Persons in want of such children are invited to call and see them. A list of children, under five years of age, who are in readiness for adoption, is kept at the Mission. The business of the Society is conducted at the Home on Tremont Street, from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. from April to October, and from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. from October to April.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the first Wednesday in May.

OFFICERS.

Vice-President — H. P. Kidder.
Treasurer — William Crosby.
Secretary — S. B. Cruft.
Physician — J. J. Putnam, M.D.

Home for Aged Women.

Revere Street, Boston.

Incorporated in April, 1849, and organized in October following, for the purpose of providing for the support of aged indigent females not otherwise cared for.

American-born women not less than sixty years of age, who have resided in Boston during the ten years preceding their application for admission, may be received by vote of the Board of Managers. The sum of $150 is required to be paid in each case, before admission, and the surrender of property to the Home.

The Home contains accommodations for 100 inmates; and rooms for 20 more can be constructed, if needed.

The annual meeting of the Association is held on the second Thursday in January. A quarterly meeting of the Board of Managers is held on the third Thursday of January, April, July, and October.

Visitors are admitted on Wednesdays, from 2 to 5 P.M.

OFFICERS.

President — Henry B. Rogers.

Vice-Presidents — Jacob Sleeper, Andrew Bigelow, Chandler Robbins, Andrew Cushing.

Home for Aged Colored Women.

27 Myrtle Street, Boston.

Organized in 1860, at the suggestion of Mrs. R. P. Clarke, and incorporated in 1864, for aged colored women of good character, who are unable to take care of themselves. If able, or if they have friends able to assist them, the beneficiaries are obliged to pay a small amount toward their maintenance. Application for admission may be made at the Home at any time. The Home has accommodation for 20 inmates.

Annual meeting on the second Wednesday in January.

OFFICERS.

President — John Parkman.
Treasurer — C. G. Loring.
Clerk — Mrs. C. D. Homans.
Physician — D. H. Hayden, M.D.

Home for Aged Men.

133 West Springfield Street, Boston.

Incorporated 1860. Respectable indigent men, born in the United States of America, who are at least fifty-five years of age, and have resided in Boston during the ten years next preceding their application for relief, may be placed on the list of beneficiaries, by vote of the Directors. They may be received into the Home, and be supported therein by relatives or friends, in whole or in part, or at the sole expense of the Corporation, as the circumstances or necessities of the case may seem to require. The Directors may also, if they deem it expedient, aid any of them in their own homes. As a general rule, those received, who are to be supported entirely by the Corporation, will be required to pay $100 entrance money, and to provide furniture for their rooms. On the 1st of January, 1873, the Home gave assistance to 37 beneficiaries within and 16 outside the Home. Applications for admission to the Home, or for aid out, must be made by the applicant, in person, if possible, on Friday, at 4 P.M., at the Home.

Visitors are admitted only on Wednesdays and Saturdays, from 9 to 11 A.M. and 3 to 5 P.M.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the second Monday in January.

OFFICERS.

President — Albert Fearing.
Vice-Presidents — James Parker, Otis Norcross, Peter C. Brooks.
Treasurer — Moses Mellen.
Clerk — D. H. Coolidge.
Physician — C. D. Homans, M.D.

Boston Provident Association.

Bureau of Charity, Hawkins and Chardon Streets, Boston.

Organized in 1851, and incorporated in 1854, for the systematic distribution of charity among the worthy poor. The city is divided into 12 districts, which are subdivided into 167 sections: for each district a visitor is appointed, whose duty it is to attend every applicant for relief within its limits. Assistance is given in food, fuel, and clothing. From seven to eight thousand persons are relieved by the Association each year, two-thirds of them being foreigners. The Directory of the Association, with the names of visitors for the various portions of the city proper, will be furnished on application at the office. It is the intention of the Association to meet every real want of the destitute and deserving poor which is made known to them. To carry out more fully and satisfactorily a true system of charity the Directors urge the public to refrain from giving aid in any way to applicants in the street or at the doors.

Office hours at the Bureau from 9 A.M. till 2 P.M., and from 3 to 5 P.M.; in summer from 9 A.M. to 1 P.M. only.

Annual meeting of the Association on the third Wednesday in May.

OFFICERS.

President — Robert C. Winthrop.
Treasurer — Edward Jackson.
Secretary — William Hedge.
General Agent — A. G. Goodwin.
Assistant — Miss E. S. Nesbitt.

Boston North End Mission.

201 North Street, Boston.

Established in 1865, and incorporated in 1870, for the purpose of promoting the spiritual welfare and improving the social and moral condition of the vicious and degraded portion of the community, by furnishing them counsel and assistance, as well as the comforts of a home. The Mission is located in the midst of one of the most densely populated and most degraded portions of the city. Its doors are open throughout the day and evening, to alleviate want and distress, to shelter the outcast, and to guide the erring. A reading-room, chapel, restaurant, industrial school, and work rooms are offered freely to every one who wishes to enjoy them.

In 1872 the estate at Mount Hope, comprising about five acres, was purchased, and here is carried on a variety of employments, such as sewing of all kinds (by machine and by hand), laundry work, gardening, and, as far as practicable, floriculture. Domestic service in its several branches is also taught.

The "Mission Magazine," published quarterly, is intended to discuss the methods of elevating the degraded population of cities, and to give practical examples and full reports of the work carried on by the Mission.

OFFICERS.

President — Eben Tourjée.
Vice-President — O. T. Taylor.
Treasurer — J. E. Daniels.
Secretary — R. W. Husted.

Bureau of Charity.

Hawkins and Chardon Streets, Boston.

The Bureau of Charity was organized and placed under the care of the Board of Overseers of the Poor, in order more fully to systematize the administration of certain public institutions, and to prevent imposture in the bestowal of charities. The Board of Overseers of the Poor was organized in 1691, and, since that time, have administered the official charities, and have acted as trustees for the care of trust funds for the benefit of the poor.

They meet on the first Monday of every month, at their office in the Charity Building.

The Board at present has the following officers: —

Chairman — F. W. Lincoln.
Treasurer — Otis Norcross.
Secretary — John Pratt.

The Charity Building is open, statedly, from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M.

In addition to the Overseers of the Poor and the City Physician, the following Societies have rooms in the building: —

INDUSTRIAL AID SOCIETY.
MASSACHUSETTS SOLDIERS' FUND.
BOSTON SOLDIERS' FUND.
BOSTON SEWING CIRCLE.
LADIES' RELIEF AGENCY.
YOUNG MEN'S BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

City Temporary Home.

Bureau of Charity, Chardon Street, Boston.

The Temporary Home, under the charge of the Overseers of the Poor, is designed to furnish provision for foundlings and persons in a destitute condition. Only women and children can be lodged there; but meals are given to deserving persons, on application to the Overseers or Matron.

Church Home for Orphan and Destitute Children.

Broadway, corner of N Street, South Boston.

Organization formed for the care of destitute children of all nationalities. Boys admitted from four to six years of age, and retained until ten; girls received under eight years of age. Children of both sexes will be taken entire charge of, and provided with good homes when they arrive at a suitable age; or will be received for one, two, or three years, to be returned to their parents at the end of that time. Children also admitted for shorter time, on payment of board. The Institution receives 100 inmates. Application for admission must be made to Mrs. C. O. Whitmore, 14 Beacon Street; Mrs. Joseph Kidder, 12 Lynde Street; or Mrs. E. D. Peters, 6 Newbury Street.

Visitors admitted on Wednesdays, between 2 and 5 P.M.; parents and friends of the children on the last Wednesday of each month, between 2 and 5.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is in November.

OFFICERS.

President — B. H. Paddock.

Vice-Presidents — W. R. Nicholson, J. I. T. Coolidge, G. S. Converse.

Treasurer — C. J. Whittemore.

Secretary — Mrs. N. W. Curtis.

Physicians — P. P. Ingalls, M.D., J. R. Draper, M.D.

Roxbury Charitable Society.

Roxbury, Boston.

Organized in 1794, and incorporated in 1799, for the relief of the poor and the prevention of pauperism in Roxbury. Relief, to a limited amount, is given in money, but the usual form is that of clothing, provisions, &c. An agent is employed by the Society to receive applications for aid and to dispense relief. Between 300 and 400 persons are annually relieved. The Roxbury Dispensary (page 106), founded in 1847, has been merged in this Society, and its separate organization abandoned. The agent of both charities is the same. His office is in Cox Building, corner of Dudley and Bartlett Streets.

OFFICERS.

President — S. C. Cobb.
Treasurer — Gorham Rogers.
Secretary — C. K. Dillaway.
Agent — L. H. Briggs.
Physicians — E. G. Morse, M.D., E. T. Williams, M.D.

Roxbury Home for Children and Aged Women.

Copeland Street, Roxbury, Boston.

Organized in 1856, to provide a home for orphan or half-orphan children, and for old women of small means, having no near kindred to care personally for them. Two dollars a week are charged for the board of children, and four dollars for women. The number of inmates is from 16 to 20, the proportions of women and children varying.

The officers are chosen annually in April.

OFFICERS.

President — John Rogers.
Vice-President — Mrs. S. W. Bush.
Treasurer — E. B. Reynolds.
Secretary — Sarah Bunker.

Infant School and Children's Home.

36 Austin Street, Charlestown, Boston.

Organized as the Charlestown Infant School Association in 1833, and reorganized in 1869 under its present title, as an Institution for the protection and care of destitute children. Those living or born in Charlestown are preferred. It can at present accommodate about 25 inmates. The Institution is supported by voluntary subscriptions.

OFFICERS.

President — Mrs. Gustavus V. Hall.
Vice-President — Mrs. Richard Frothingham.

Treasurer — Mrs. James M. Stone.
Secretary — Miss Mary D. Balfour.
Physician — James C. Neilson, M.D.

Winchester Home for Aged Women.

12 Eden Street, Charlestown, Boston.

This Institution, founded in October, 1865, is intended as a home for American-born women, over sixty years of age, who have resided in Charlestown for at least ten years, and are in destitute circumstances. Applicants for admission as inmates are received on probation for three months, after which residence is continued or terminated at the discretion of the Board of Managers. As a general rule, the sum of $100 is paid, and the furniture of a room furnished, for each inmate on entrance. Persons are occasionally admitted as boarders, but not to the exclusion of those entirely dependent.

The building now occupied by the Home accommodates about 30 inmates.

The annual meeting is held on the second Thursday of January. The Board of Managers hold meetings on the third Thursday of January, April, July, and October.

OFFICERS.

President — Liverus Hull.
Vice-Presidents — T. T. Sawyer, William Carleton.
Treasurer — Benjamin Phipps.
Secretary — O. C. Everett.

Massachusetts Infant Asylum.

Walnut Street, Brookline.

The Institution was incorporated May 15, 1867, for the purpose of assisting and providing for deserted and destitute infant children. The classes of children, for whom support is provided, are foundlings, whose parentage is unknown; infants deserted by their known parents, or left orphans at a tender age; the infant children of women unable to support them entirely, who can pay a part of their cost or can take some part in the care of them. These classes are received in the order of their necessities. About 30 children are in the Asylum at once. As many mothers are retained as wet nurses as the necessities of the Institution demand. Infants are also sent to good nurses outside the Asylum, either by procuring their adoption or by paying their board. In carrying out their object, the Directors endeavor, at all times, to keep in mind the true relations between parents, when living, and their children, and obtain the support of the child from its parents or kindred, whenever it can be done.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the first Tuesday in April. The Directors meet on the last Tuesday of each month.

Application for the admission of infants must be made to the Secretary of the Committee on Admissions, Miss Parker, 1277 Washington Street, Boston, on Wednesday, between 9½ and 11. No child, born out of the State, is received, except under the provisions of the law; nor is any child taken if over nine months of age. All children are submitted to medical examination before admission.

Application for children for adoption may be made to the matron at the Asylum, or to a member of the Adoption Committee.

The rules which govern admission, adoption, &c., are contained in the sixth report of the Asylum.

During the year ending April 7, 1874, 77 children were received; and 343 from the organization of the Asylum. The percentage of deaths in the year was 19.48, which is lower than in any European institution of similar character.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

U. S. Army—Medical Service.

Brig. Gen. J. K. Barnes, M.D., Surgeon General, Washington, D.C.

The Medical Officers in the U. S. Army, on duty in Boston and vicinity, are:—

Assistant Surgeon J. W. Brewer, M.D., Attending Surgeon, Fort Warren, Boston Harbor.

Assistant Surgeon C. E. Munn, M.D., Attending Surgeon, Fort Independence, Boston Harbor.

The following memorandum has been issued for the information of persons desirous of entering the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army:—

[extracts from laws of the united states.]

Act of Congress, approved June 30, 1834.

"Sect. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That from and after the passage of this Act, no person shall receive the appointment of Assistant Surgeon in the Army of the United States, unless he shall have been examined and approved by an Army Medical Board, to consist of not less than three Surgeons or Assistant Surgeons, who shall be designated for that purpose by the Secretary of War; and no person shall receive the appointment of Surgeon in the Army of the United States, unless he shall have served at least five years as an Assistant Surgeon, and unless, also, he shall have been examined by an Army Medical Board constituted as aforesaid."

Act of Congress, approved July 28, 1866.

"Sect. 17. And be it further enacted, That the Medical Department of the Army shall hereafter consist of one Surgeon General, . . . one Assistant Surgeon General, . . . one Chief Medical Pur-veyor and four Assistant Medical Purveyors, . . . sixty Surgeons, with the rank, pay, and emoluments of Majors of Cavalry, one hundred and fifty Assistant Surgeons, with the rank, pay, and emoluments of First Lieutenants of Cavalry for the first three years' service, and with the rank, pay, and emoluments of Captains of Cavalry after three years' service." . . .

All candidates for appointment in the Medical Corps must apply to the Hon. Secretary of War for an invitation to appear before the Medical Examining Board. The application must be in the handwriting of the candidate, stating age and birthplace, and be accompanied by testimonials from Professors of the college in which he graduated, or from other physicians of good repute.

Candidates must be between 21 and 28 years of age and graduates of a Medical College having a thorough and complete course of Medical education, — evidence of which must be submitted to the Board before examination.

The morals, habits, and physical and mental qualifications of each candidate will be subjects for careful examination by the Board; and a favorable report will not be made in any case in which there is a reasonable doubt.

The following will be the general plan of examination: —

1. A short essay, either autobiographical or upon some professional subject, — to be indicated by the Board.

2. Physical examination. This will be rigid, and each candidate will be required to certify "that he labors under no mental or physical infirmity, nor disability of any kind, which can in any way interfere with the most efficient discharge of his duties in any climate."

3. Examination as to general aptitude and education.

4. Written examination on anatomy, physiology, hygiene, surgery, and practice of medicine.

5. Oral examination on each of the above-mentioned subjects, and also on obstetrics, general pathology, chemistry, toxicology, medical jurisprudence, and materia medica.

6. Clinical examination, medical and surgical, at a hospital.

7. Performance of surgical operations on the cadaver.

The Board will deviate from this general plan whenever necessary, in such manner as they deem best to secure the interests of the service.

The Board will report the merits of the candidates in the several branches of the examination, and their relative merit in the whole, according to which, if vacancies exist within two years thereafter, the approved candidates will receive appointments and take rank in the Medical Corps.

An applicant failing at one examination may be allowed a second after one year, but not a third.

No allowance will be made for the expenses of persons undergoing examination, as this is an indispensable prerequisite to appointment; but those who are approved and receive appointments will be entitled to transportation on their obeying their first order.

If the result of the examination of a candidate be satisfactory, he will be offered a contract for duty as Acting Assistant Surgeon until such time as he can be appointed or commissioned as Assistant Surgeon.

(Signed) WM. W. BELKNAP,
Secretary of War.

Regulations

For Admission and Promotion in the Medical Department of the Navy.

It is prescribed by law that no person shall be appointed in this branch of the service who has not been examined and found qualified by a Board of Naval Surgeons, designated by the Secretary of the Navy, and who is not under twenty-one or over twenty-six years of age.

A Board of Naval Surgeons will be assembled annually, at such place as may be indicated by the Department, usually about the close of the lecture season of the colleges, for the examination and selection of candidates for admission into the Medical Corps of the Navy, as well as for the examinations of Assistant Surgeons who may be candidates for promotion.

Application for permission to attend the examination for admission to the Medical Corps of the Navy must be addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, stating the age and residence of the applicant, and be accompanied by respectable testimonials of moral character.

The permission will state the time and place of the meeting of the Board.

The Board rigidly scrutinizes the physical qualifications of each candidate, as well as his mental and professional capacity; requires competent testimony as to his moral fitness, and reports favorably upon no case admitting of a reasonable doubt, as the health and the lives of the officers and men of the Navy are objects too important to be intrusted to ignorant or incompetent persons. Scholastic acquirements, especially orthography, geography, and grammar, are rigidly inquired into; and those who know themselves to be deficient upon these points will lose their time and incur useless expense by presenting themselves for examination.

The Board reports the relative merit of the candidates as shown by the examination; and appointments will be made in the Navy, as vacancies may occur, in the order in which they may be reported by the Board. Although nothing can take the place of professional qualification, a knowledge of modern languages, or of any branch of natural history, especially botany, will, other circumstances being equal, give the candidate possessing them a preference in selection or position.

No qualified candidate will be held over for appointment beyond the year: if not appointed within that time, it will be necessary for a candidate to be re-examined, when he will take position with the class last examined.

Physical examination will precede the professional. No candidate not physically qualified for the active duties of the service will be examined professionally. The Board will make a separate report in each case of the physical condition direct to the Department, to be placed on file with the testimonials of the candidate.

No allowance is made for the expenses of persons undergoing these examinations, as they are indispensable prerequisites to appointment.

Assistant Surgeons are entitled to an examination for promotion after three years' service in the Navy.

In order that the relative position of Assistant Surgeons of the same date, who shall be examined for promotion at different times, may be more readily determined, a majority of the members of the Board will be selected, if practicable, from those who served on the next preceding Board.

Assistant Surgeons who are candidates for promotion shall present to the Board testimonials of correct deportment and habits of industry from the Surgeons with whom they have been associated on duty; also a journal of practice, or case book, in their own handwriting. They are expected to be familiar with all the details of duty specified in the "Instructions for the Government of Medical Officers."

Any Assistant Surgeon who shall fail to present himself for examination after he has been ordered (unless for reasons which may be satisfactory to the Department) shall be dropped from the list of officers of the Navy.

GEORGE M. ROBESON,
Secretary of the Navy.

FORM OF APPLICATION.

————————, 187

To the Secretary of the Navy:

I respectfully make application for examination as to my qualifications for appointment as Assistant Surgeon in the United States Navy. I was years of age on the day of 187 , and reside in , county of , and State of . I forward herewith testimonial of moral and physical qualifications.

Very respectfully,

Statutes and Ordinances affecting Physicians and Others.

STATUTES.

Boards of Health.

Towns to choose board of health, or health officer, or selectmen to act. G. S 26, § 1. 8 Cush. 68.

A town, respecting which no provision is made by special law for choosing a Board of Health, may, at its annual meeting, legally warned for the purpose, choose a Board of Health, to consist of not less than three, nor more than nine persons; or may choose a health officer. If no board or officer is chosen, the selectmen shall be the Board of Health.

City council to appoint board of health, or, &c. Ibid. § 2. 1849, 211, §§ 1, 2. 97 Mass. 221. G. S. 26, § 2.

Except where a different provision is made by law, the City Council of a city may appoint a Board of Health; may constitute either branch of such Council, or a joint or separate committee of their body, a Board of Health either for general or special purposes; and may prescribe the manner in which other powers and duties of the Board shall be exercised and carried into effect. In default of the appointment of a Board with full powers, the City Council shall have the powers and perform the duties prescribed to Boards of Health.

Board may appoint physician. G. S. 26, § 3.

Every Board of Health may appoint a physician to the Board, who shall hold his office during its pleasure.

Compensation of physician and others. G. S. 26, § 4.

The Board shall establish the salary or other compensation of such physician, and shall regulate all fees and charges of persons employed by it in the execution of the health laws and of its own regulations.

Boards of health may delegate agents. 1866, 271, § 1.

Boards of Health in the several cities and towns in this Commonwealth may appoint an agent or agents to act for them, respectively, in cases of emergency, or when such Board cannot be conveniently assembled; and such agent so appointed shall have, and may exercise, all the authority which the Board of Health appointing him had; but he shall, within two days, report his action in each case to the Board of Health for their approval, and shall be directly responsible to, and under the control and direction of, the Board of Health from which he received such appointment.

State board of health and vital statistics established. How appointed. 1869, 420, § 1.

The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, shall appoint seven persons, who shall constitute the Board of Health and Vital Statistics. The persons so appointed shall hold their offices for seven years: provided, that the terms of office of the seven first appointed shall be so arranged that the term of one shall expire each year, and the vacancies so created, as well as all vacancies occurring otherwise, shall be filled by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council; but any one may be reappointed.

— to make sanitary investigations and report to legislature. Ibid. § 2.

The Board shall take cognizance of the interests of health and life among the citizens of this Commonwealth. They shall make sanitary investigations and inquiries in respect to the people, the causes of disease, and especially of epidemics and the sources of mortality, and the effects of localities, employments, conditions and circumstances, on the public health; and they shall gather such information in respect to those matters as they may deem proper for diffusion among the people. They shall advise the Government in regard to the location of any public institutions. They shall, in the month of January, make report to the Legislature of their doings, investigations, and discoveries during the year ending December thirty-first, with such suggestions as to legislative action as they may deem necessary.

— to meet once in three months, and serve without compensation. Ibid. § 3.

The Board shall meet at the State House once in three months, and as much oftener as they may deem expedient. No member except the Secretary shall receive any compensation, but the actual expenses of any member while engaged in the duties of the Board shall be allowed and paid.

— to examine into and report upon the effect of intoxicating liquor as a beverage. Ibid. § 4.

It shall be the duty of the Board, and they are hereby instructed, to examine into, and report what, in their best judgment, is the effect of the use of intoxicating liquor, as a beverage, upon the industry, prosperity, happiness, health, and lives of the citizens of the State. Also what additional legislation, if any, is necessary in the premises.

Secretary of board, his duties, compensa-

The Board shall elect a secretary, either from their own number or otherwise; but when elected he shall be a member of the Board and their executive officer. He shall pertion, &c. Ibid. § 5.

form and superintend the work prescribed in this law, and such other duties as the Board may require. He shall receive from the Treasury, in quarterly payments, an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars; and his necessary travelling expenses incurred in the performance of official duties, after they have been audited by the Board and approved by the Governor and Council, and all other necessary expenses arising in his office, shall be paid out of the Treasury in the same manner as those of the different departments of the Government.

Board to make regulations respecting nuisances, &c. G. S. 26, § 5. 12 Pick. 184. 97 Mass. 221.

The Board [of Health in the several cities and towns of this Commonwealth] shall make such regulations as it judges necessary for the public health and safety, respecting nuisances, sources of filth, and causes of sickness within its town, or on board of vessels within its harbor; and respecting articles which are capable of containing or conveying infection or contagion, or of creating sickness, brought into, or conveyed from, its town, or into or from any vessel. Whoever violates any such regulation shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Board to give notice of regulation. Ibid. § 6.

Notice shall be given by the Board of all regulations made by it, by publishing the same in some newspaper of its town, or, where there is no such newspaper, by posting them up in some public place in the town. Such notice shall be deemed legal notice to all persons.

To examine into and abate nuisances, &c. Ibid. § 7. 11 Met. 572.

The Board shall examine into all nuisances, sources of filth, and causes of sickness within its town, or in any vessel within the harbor of such town, that may in its opinion be injurious to the health of the inhabitants, and the same shall destroy, remove, or prevent, as the case may require.

To order nuisances, &c., abated. Penalty for refusing. G. S. 26, § 8; 87, § 5; 88, §§ 40. 42. 1862, 74.

The Board or the health officer shall order the owner or occupant at his own expense to remove any nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness, found on private property, within twenty-four hours, or such other time as it deems reasonable after notice served as provided in the following section; and if the owner or occupant neglects so to do, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding twenty dollars for every day during which he knowingly permits such nuisance or cause of sickness to remain after the time prescribed for the removal thereof.

Such order shall be made in writing, and served by any person competent to serve a notice in a civil suit, personally on the owner, occupant, or his authorized agent; or a copy of the order may be left at the last and usual place of abode of the owner, occupant, or agent, if he is known and within the State. But if the premises are unoccupied, and the residence of the owner or agent is unknown, or without the State, the notice may be served by posting the same on the premises and advertising in one or more public newspapers in such manner and for such length of time as the Board or health officer may direct.

Order for abatement, how served. Ibid. § 9; 87, § 5; 88, §§ 40, 42. 1862, 74. 98 Mass. 431.

If the owner or occupant fails to comply with such order, the Board may cause the nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness to be removed, and all expenses incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner, occupant, or other person who caused or permitted the same, if he has had actual notice from the Board of Health of the existence thereof.

Owner not complying, board to remove nuisance at his expense. Ibid. § 10; 87, § 5; 88, §§ 40, 42. 1862, 74. 98 Mass. 432.

The Board, when satisfied upon due examination that any cellar, room, tenement, or building in its town, occupied as a dwelling-place, has become, by reason of the number of occupants, or want of cleanliness, or other cause, unfit for such purpose and a cause of nuisance or sickness to the occupants, or the public, may issue a notice in writing to such occupants, or any of them, requiring the premises to be put into a proper condition as to cleanliness, or, if they see fit, requiring the occupants to remove or quit the premises within such time as the Board may deem reasonable. If the person so notified, or any of them, neglect or refuse to comply with the terms of the notice, the Board may cause the premises to be properly cleansed at the expense of the owners, or may remove the occupants forcibly and close up the premises, and the same shall not be again occupied as a dwelling-place without the consent, in writing, of the Board. If the owner thereafter occupies or knowingly permits the same to be occupied without such permission in writing, he shall forfeit a sum not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

Board may notify occupant of unfit dwelling-places to quit, &c. G. S. 26, § 11. 11 Met. 572. G. S. 26, § 11.

When a person is convicted on an indictment for a common nuisance injurious to the public health, the court in their discretion may order it to be removed or destroyed, at the expense of the defendant, under the direction of the Board of Health; and the form of the warrant to the sheriff or other officer may be varied accordingly.

Court may issue injunctions, in cases of nuisance. G.S.27, § 13.

The Superior Court, or a justice thereof in term-time or vacation, may, either before or pending a prosecution for a common nuisance affecting the public health, issue an injunction to stay or prevent the same until the matter shall be decided by a jury or otherwise; may enforce such injunction according to the course of proceedings in chancery; and may dissolve the same when the court or one of the justices shall think proper.

Board may make compulsory examination of premises, when refused, &c. 1873, 2, § 1.

When the Board thinks it necessary for the preservation of the lives or health of the inhabitants, to enter any land, building, premises, or vessel within its town, for the purpose of examining into and destroying, removing, or preventing any nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness, and said Board or any agent thereof sent for that purpose shall be refused such entry, any member of the Board or such agent may make complaint under oath to any justice of any court of record or to two justices of the peace of the county, stating the facts of the case so far as he has knowledge thereof, and said justice or justices may thereupon issue a warrant, directed to the sheriff or any of his deputies, to such agent of the Board, or to any constable of such town, commanding him to take sufficient aid, and at any reasonable time repair to the place where such nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness complained of may be, and the same to destroy, remove, or prevent, under the directions of said Board.

May permit removal of infected articles. G. S. 26, § 15.

The Board may grant permits for the removal of any nuisance, infected articles, or sick person, within the limits of its town, when it thinks it safe and proper so to do.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

Board of health shall make provision for persons infected. Ibid. § 16. 2 Cush. 52.

When any person coming from abroad or residing in any town in this State is infected, or lately has been infected, with the plague or other sickness dangerous to the public health, except as is otherwise provided in this chapter, the Board [of Health] shall make effectual provision in the manner which it judges best for the safety of the inhabitants, by removing such person to a separate house or otherwise, and by providing nurses and other assistants and necessaries, which shall be at the charge of the person himself, his parents, or master, if able, otherwise at the charge of the town to which he belongs; and if he is not an inhabitant of any town, at the charge of the Commonwealth. See G. S. 26, § 51.

If the infected person cannot be removed without danger to his health, the board shall make provision for him as directed in the preceding section in the house in which he may be; and may cause the persons in the neighborhood to be removed, and take such other measures as it judges necessary for the safety of the inhabitants. If infected person cannot be removed, others may be, &c. G. S. 26, § 17. See G. S. 26, § 51.

The board of health of any town near to or bordering upon either of the neighboring States, may appoint, by writing, suitable persons to attend at places by which travellers may pass from infected places in other States; who may examine such travellers as it suspects of bringing any infection dangerous to the public health, and if need be may restrain them from travelling until licensed thereto by the board of health of the town to which such person may come. A traveller coming from such infected place, who shall without such license travel within this State (except to return by the most direct way to the State from whence he came), after he has been cautioned to depart by the persons so appointed, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars. Persons may be stationed in places bordering on other States, to examine, &c. Ibid. § 18.

Two justices of the peace may, if need be, make out a warrant, directed to the sheriff of the county, or his deputy, or to any constable, requiring them, under the direction of the board, to remove any person infected with contagious sickness, or to impress and take up convenient houses, lodging, nurses, attendants, and other necessaries, for the accommodation, safety, and relief of the sick. Two justices of the peace may issue warrant to remove sick persons. Ibid. § 19.

When, upon the application of the board, it appears to a justice of the peace that there is just cause to suspect that any baggage, clothing, or goods found within the town, are infected with the plague or other disease which may be dangerous to the public health, the justice shall, by warrant directed to the sheriff or his deputy, or to any constable, require him to impress so many men as said jus- One justice may issue warrant to sheriff to secure infected articles, who may impress aid. Ibid. § 20.

tice may judge necessary to secure such baggage, clothing, or other goods, and to post said men as a guard over the house or place where such articles are lodged; who shall take effectual care to prevent persons from removing or coming near the same, until due inquiry is made into the circumstances.

Justice may take houses and stores, &c., for safe keeping of goods, &c. G. S. 26, § 21.

The justice may, by the same warrant, if it appears to him necessary, require the officers, under the direction of the board, to impress and take up convenient houses or stores for the safe-keeping of such articles; and the board may cause them to be removed thereto, or otherwise detained, until, in the opinion of the board, they are freed from infection.

Officers may break open houses, shops, &c., and command aid. Ibid. § 22.

The officers, in the execution of the warrant, shall, if need be, break open any house, shop, or other place mentioned in the warrant where such articles are; and may require such aid as is necessary to effect the execution of the warrant. Whoever neglects or refuses to assist in the execution of the warrant, after being commanded to assist by either of said officers, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Expenses to be paid by owners of goods. Ibid. § 23.

The charges of securing such articles, and transporting and purifying the same, shall be paid by the owners, at such rates and prices as may be determined by the board.

Town to make compensation for houses, &c., or services impressed. Ibid. § 24.

When a sheriff or other officer impresses or takes up any houses, stores, lodging, or other necessaries, or impresses men, as provided in this chapter, the several parties interested shall be entitled to a just compensation therefor, to be paid by the town in which such persons or property are so impressed.

Removal of prisoners attacked with disease. Ibid. § 25.

When a person confined in a common jail, house of correction, or workhouse, has a disease which, in the opinion of the physician of the board or of such other physician as it may consult, is dangerous to the safety and health of other prisoners or of the inhabitants of the town, the board shall, by its order in writing, direct the removal of such person to some hospital or other place of safety, there to be provided for and securely kept so as to prevent his escape until its further order. If such person recovers from the disease, he shall be returned to said prison or other place of confinement.

Return of removal to be made to court. Such removal not an escape. G. S. 26, § 26.

If the person so removed is committed by order of court or under judicial process, the order for his removal, or a copy thereof, attested by the presiding member of the board, shall be returned by him, with the doings thereon, into the office of the clerk of the court from which the process of commitment was issued. No prisoner so removed shall thereby commit an escape.

VACCINATION.

Parents, &c., to cause children, &c., to be vaccinated. Penalty for neglect. Ibid. § 27.

Parents and guardians shall cause their children and wards to be vaccinated before they attain the age of two years, and revaccinated whenever the selectmen or mayor and aldermen shall after five years from the last vaccination require it. For every year's neglect the party offending shall forfeit the sum of five dollars.

Selectmen, &c., to enforce vaccination, &c. Penalty for neglect. Ibid. § 28.

The selectmen and mayor and aldermen shall require and enforce the vaccination of all the inhabitants, and, whenever in their opinion the public health requires, the revaccination of all the inhabitants who do not prove to their satisfaction that they have been successfully vaccinated or revaccinated within five years. All persons over twenty-one years of age, not under guardianship, who neglect to comply with any such requirement, shall forfeit the sum of five dollars.

Towns to provide means. Ibid. § 29.

Towns shall furnish the means of vaccination to such of their inhabitants as are unable to pay for the same.

Inmates of manufactories, almshouses, &c., to be vaccinated. Ibid. § 30.

Incorporated manufacturing companies; superintendents of almshouses, State reform and industrial schools, lunatic hospitals, and other places where the poor and sick are received; masters of houses of correction, jailers, keepers of prisons, the warden of the State prison; and superintendents or officers of all other institutions supported or aided by the State, shall, at the expense of their respective establishments or institutions, cause all inmates thereof to be vaccinated immediately upon their entrance thereto, unless they produce sufficient evidence of previous successful vaccination within five years.

Each town may make further provision for the vaccination of its inhabitants, under the direction of the board or a committee chosen for the purpose.

QUARANTINE.

Towns may establish a quarantine ground. Ibid. § 32.

A town may establish a quarantine ground in a suitable place either within or without its own limits; but if such place is without its limits, the assent of the town within whose limits it may be established shall be first obtained.

Two or more may establish a common quarantine ground. Ibid. § 33.

Two or more towns may at their joint expense establish a quarantine ground for their common use in any suitable place, either within or without their own limits; but if such place is without their limits, they shall first obtain the assent of the town within whose limits it may be.

Board of health may establish quarantine of vessels. Ibid. § 34.

The board of health in each seaport town may from time to time establish the quarantine to be performed by vessels arriving within its harbor; and may make such quarantine regulations as it judges necessary for the health and safety of the inhabitants.

Penalty if owner or master of vessel make false declaration. Spec. Laws, v. 3, p 211, § 3.

Whenever quarantine is imposed on any vessel coming from abroad, and the owner, consignee, master, or other person interested in such vessel or her cargo, shall be interrogated by any member of the board of health in his official capacity, or by the visiting physician of said board, respecting any circumstance or event, touching the health of the crew or passengers on such vessel, or any infection suspected in the cargo, from the time of her first engaging upon the voyage she may then be terminating, and the said owner, consignee, master, or other person interested as aforesaid, shall make any false or unfounded declaration respecting the points under examination, every such owner, consignee, master, or other interested person, upon conviction thereof, in manner as pointed out in the eighth section of the law to which this is an addition, shall forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, suffer six months' imprisonment, either or both, at the discretion of the court having cognizance of such offence.

Quarantine regulations to extend to all, &c. G.S. 26, § 35.

Such regulations shall extend to all persons, goods, and effects arriving in such vessels, and to all persons who may visit or go on board of the same.

Whoever violates any such regulation, after notice thereof has been given in the manner before provided in this chapter, shall forfeit a sum not less than five nor more than five hundred dollars.

Penalty for violation after notice G.S. 26, § 36.

The board in each seaport town may at all times cause a vessel arriving in such port, when such vessel or the cargo thereof is in its opinion foul or infected so as to endanger the public health, to be removed to the quarantine ground and thoroughly purified at the expense of the owners, consignees, or persons in possession of the same; and may cause all persons arriving in or going on board of such vessel, or handling the cargo, to be removed to any hospital under the care of the board, there to remain under their orders.

Vessels suspected of infection to be ordered to quarantine. Ibid. § 37.

If a master, seaman, or passenger belonging to a vessel on board of which any infection then is or has lately been, or is suspected to have been, or which has been at, or has come from, a port where any infectious distemper prevails that may endanger the public health, refuses to make answer on oath to such questions as may be asked him relating to such infection or distemper by the board of health of the town to which such vessel may come (which oath any member of the board may administer), such master, seaman, or passenger shall forfeit a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars; and if not able to pay said sum, he shall suffer six months' imprisonment.

Penalty, if master, seaman, &c., refuse to answer on oath, &c. Ibid. § 38.

All expenses incurred on account of any person, vessel, or goods, under quarantine regulations, shall be paid by such person or the owner of such vessel or goods respectively.

Quarantine expenses, how paid by person or owner. Ibid. § 39.

Any city or town may erect, establish, and maintain a hospital, for the reception of persons, who, by misfortune or poverty, may require relief during temporary sickness. And the city council of any city and the selectmen of any town shall have power to make such ordinances, rules, and regulations as they may deem expedient, for the appointment of trustees, and all other officers, agents, and servants necessary for managing such hospital.

Hospital for patients requiring temporary relief may be provided by towns. 1873, 192, § 1.

Any town may establish within its limits, and be constantly provided with, one or more hospitals for the recepeases may be provided by towns. G.S. 26, § 40.

tion of persons having a disease dangerous to the public health.

To be under orders of board of health. Ibid. § 41.

Such hospitals shall be subject to the orders and regulations of the board, or of a committee of the town appointed for that purpose.

Hospitals not to be within, &c. Ibid. § 42.

No such hospital shall be established within one hundred rods of an inhabited dwelling-house situated in an adjoining town, without the consent of such town.

Physicians, &c., in hospitals subject to board of health. Ibid. § 43.

When a hospital is so established, the physician, nurses, attendants, the persons sick therein, and all persons approaching or coming within the limits of the same, and all furniture and other articles used or brought there, shall be subject to such regulations as may be made by the board of health or the committee appointed for that purpose.

Hospitals not to be erected or occupied without consent of town or city authorities. 1870, 306.

Whoever erects, occupies, or uses any building in any place, for a hospital in such part thereof as the mayor and aldermen, or selectmen prohibit, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding fifty dollars for every month he so occupies or uses such building, and in like proportion for a longer or shorter time; and the Supreme Judicial Court, or any one of the justices thereof, either in term time or vacation, may issue an injunction to prevent such erection, occupancy, or use.

Board of health to provide hospital, &c., and remove sick, &c. G. S. 26, § 44. See G. S. 26, § 51.

When a disease dangerous to the public health breaks out in any town, the board shall immediately provide such hospital or place of reception for the sick and infected as is judged best for their accommodation and the safety of the inhabitants; which shall be subject to the regulations of the board; and the board may cause any sick and infected person to be removed thereto, unless the condition of such person will not admit of his removal without danger to his health, in which case the house or place where he remains shall be considered as a hospital, and all persons residing in or in any way concerned within the same shall be subject to the regulations of the board as before provided.

Selectmen to give notice of infected places. G. S. 26, § 45. 1873, 2, § 2. See G.S. 26, § 51.

When such disease is found to exist in a town, the selectmen and board of health shall use all possible care to prevent the spreading of the infection, and to give public notice of infected places to travellers, by displaying red flags at proper distances, and by all other means which in their judgment shall be most effectual for the common safety. And whoever obstructs the selectmen, board of health or their agent, in using such means to prevent the spreading of the infection, or wilfully removes, obliterates, defaces, or handles the red flags or other signals so displayed, shall forfeit for each offence a sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars.

Penalty on persons in hospitals, &c., for violating regulations. G.S. 26, § 46. See G. S. 26, § 51. 1872, 189.

If a physician or other person in any of the hospitals or places of reception before mentioned, or who attends, approaches, or is concerned with the same, violates any of the regulations lawfully made in relation thereto, either with respect to himself, or his or any other person's property, he shall for each offence forfeit a sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars.

Householders to give notice of dangerous diseases. Penalty. Ibid. § 47.

When a householder knows that a person within his family is taken sick of small-pox or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the selectmen or board of health of the town in which he dwells. If he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Penalty on physicians for not giving notice of dangerous disease. Ibid. § 48.

When a physician knows that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with small-pox or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the selectmen or board of health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice he shall forfeit for each offence a sum not less than fifty, nor more than one hundred dollars.

Expenses recoverable of individuals; how sued for. Ibid. § 49. 98 Mass. 442.

Expenses incurred by a town in the removal of nuisances or for the preservation of the public health, and which are recoverable of a private person or corporation by virtue of any provisions of law, may be sued for and recovered in an action of contract.

Fines and forfeitures to inure to use of town. Ibid. § 50. See G. S. 19, § 15. 5 Cush. 408.

Fines and forfeitures incurred under general laws, the special laws applicable to a town, or the by-laws and regulations of a town relating to health, shall inure to the use of such town.

Small-pox. Ibid. § 51. 1872, 189.

The provisions of sections sixteen, seventeen, forty-four, forty-five, and forty-six [of chap. 26 of the General Statutes], so far as they confer authority for the removal of patients from their homes, except in case of persons residing in boarding-houses, hotels, or where two or more families occupy the same dwelling, and in all other cases, where, in the opinion of the board of health and the attending physician, the case cannot be properly isolated, shall not apply to small-pox.

OFFENCES AGAINST THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Selling corrupt or unwholesome provisions without notice. G.S. 166, §1. 12 Cush. 499.

Whoever knowingly sells any kind of diseased, corrupted, or unwholesome provisions, whether for meat or drink, without making the same fully known to the buyer, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding two hundred dollars.

Young calves not to be killed for sale, or sold. 1866, 253, § 1. 97 Mass. 567. 1872, 231, § 4. 1866, 253, § 1.

Whoever kills, or causes to be killed, for the purpose of sale, any calf less than four weeks old; or knowingly sells, or has in his possession with intent to sell, the meat of any calf killed when less than four weeks old, — shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail or house of correction not exceeding six months; or by fine not exceeding two hundred dollars; or by both such imprisonment and fine; and all such meat exposed for sale, or kept with intent to make sale thereof, may be seized and destroyed by any board of health, or health officer, or by any sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, or police officer.

Search-warrant for such meat may be issued. Ibid. § 2.

When complaint is made on oath to any police court or magistrate authorized to issue warrants in criminal cases, that the complainant believes that any meat such as is described in the first section is kept or concealed in any particular house or place, with the intent to sell, or offer the same for sale, the court or magistrate, if satisfied that there is reasonable cause for such belief, shall issue a warrant to search for such meat; and all such warrants shall be directed and executed in the manner provided in the third section of the one hundred and seventieth chapter of the General Statutes.

Adulterating food. Ibid 166, § 3.

Whoever fraudulently adulterates, for the purpose of sale, bread or any other substance intended for food, with any substance injurious to health, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars; and the articles so adulterated shall be forfeited and destroyed under the direction of the court.

Adulteration of liquor used for drink, with cocculus indicus, &c. G. S. 166, § 4.

Whoever adulterates, for the purpose of sale, any liquor used or intended for drink, with cocculus indicus, vitriol, grains of paradise, opium, alum, capsicum, copperas, laurel water, logwood, Brazil wood, cochineal, sugar of lead, or any other substance which is poisonous or injurious to health; and whoever knowingly sells any such liquor so adulterated, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding three years; and the articles so adulterated shall be forfeited.

Adulteration of drugs and medicines. Ibid. § 5.

Whoever fraudulently adulterates, for the purpose of sale, any drug or medicine, or sells any fraudulently adulterated drug or medicine, knowing the same to be adulterated, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding four hundred dollars; and such adulterated drugs and medicines shall be forfeited and destroyed under the direction of the court.

Wilfully corrupting springs, &c., or injuring aqueduct. Ibid. § 6.

Whoever wilfully or maliciously defiles, corrupts, or makes impure any spring or other source of water or reservoir, or destroys or injures any pipe, conductor of water, or other property pertaining to an aqueduct, or aids or abets in any such trespass, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding one year.

Persons selling arsenic, &c., to keep record, &c. Purchasers who give false names, &c. Ibid. § 7.

If any apothecary or other person sells any arsenic, strychnine, corrosive sublimate, or prussic acid without the written prescription of a physician, he shall keep a record of the date of such sale, the article, the amount thereof sold, and the person or persons to whom delivered; and for each neglect he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding fifty dollars. Whoever purchases deadly poisons, as aforesaid, and gives a false or fictitious name to the apothecary or other person, shall be punished by fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

Damaged fish not to be sold or exported, &c. Penalty. G. S. 49, § 57.

Whoever sells within this State or exports therefrom tainted or damaged fish, unless with the intent that the same shall be used for some other purpose than as food, shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars for every hundred pounds of such fish, and in the same proportion for any other quantity; and upon a trial in such case the burden of proof shall be upon the defendant to show for what purpose such fish was so exported or sold.

Penalty for selling, &c., adulterated milk. 1869, 150, § 1.

Whoever sells or exchanges, or has in his possession with intent to sell or exchange, or offers for sale or exchange, adulterated milk, or milk to which water or any foreign substance has been added, shall, for each offence, be punished by a fine of not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars.

Milk for making butter and cheese. Ibid. § 2.

Whoever adulterates, by water or otherwise, milk to be delivered for manufacture into butter or cheese shall be liable to the penalties provided in the preceding section.

Inspector to institute complaint. Ibid. § 3.

It shall be the duty of every inspector of milk to institute complaint, on the information of any person who shall lay before him satisfactory evidence on which to sustain the same.

INSPECTION OF PROVISIONS.

Appointment of inspectors of provisions. 1872, 231, § 1.

The mayor and aldermen of cities and the selectmen of towns may annually appoint one or more persons to be inspectors of provisions, who shall be sworn to faithfully discharge the duties of their office, and who shall receive such compensation as the city council of cities or the selectmen of towns shall determine.

May inspect all provisions brought into town, or offered for sale. Ibid. § 2.

Said inspectors shall have power to inspect all meats, fish, vegetables, produce, and provisions of all kinds brought into said cities or towns, or exposed for sale or kept with intent to sell therein; and may for this purpose enter into all buildings where said meats, fish, vegetables, produce or provisions are stored or exposed for sale. When such meats, fish, vegetables, produce, or provisions are found on such inspection to be tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed, or unwholesome from any cause, said inspectors shall seize the same and cause it to be destroyed or disposed of otherwise than for food; provided, however, that if the owner of the property seized shall at the time of seizure notify said inspector in writing of his desire to appeal to the board of health, said inspector shall cause said meat, fish, vegetables, produce, or provisions to be inspected by said board of health, or by a committee thereof, consisting of not less than two members, and if said board or committee shall find the same to be tainted, diseased, corrupted, or unwholesome, they shall order the same to be destroyed or disposed of otherwise than for food. All moneys received by said inspector or board of health for property disposed of as aforesaid, shall, after deducting all expenses incurred by reason of said seizure, be paid to the owner thereof.

Inspection of veal. 1872, 231, § 3.

Said inspectors shall have power to inspect all veal brought into said cities or towns, or offered or exposed for sale, or kept with intent to sell therein, and if said veal is, in the judgment of the inspector, that of a calf killed under four weeks old, he shall seize the same and cause it to be destroyed or disposed of, as provided in the preceding section, subject, however, to the same provisions concerning appeal and the disposal of moneys that are therein contained.

Complaints concerning tainted meats. 1866, 253, § 1. Ibid. § 4.

When complaint is made on oath to any police court or magistrate authorized to issue warrants in criminal cases, that the complainant believes that any tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed, or unwholesome meat, fish, vegetables, produce, or provisions of any kind, or any veal of a calf killed under four weeks old is kept or concealed in any particular house or place with the intent to sell or offer the same for sale, the court or magistrate, if satisfied there is reasonable cause for such belief, shall issue a warrant to search for such articles, and all such warrants shall be directed and executed as provided in the third section of chapter one hundred and seventy of the General Statutes.

Penalty for sale of unwholesome food. Ibid. § 5.

Whoever knowingly sells, or offers, or exposes for sale, or has in his possession with intent to sell as articles of food, any tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed, or unwholesome meat, fish, vegetables, produce, or provisions of any kind whatever, shall be punished by imprisonment in jail not exceeding sixty days, or by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Name, &c., of offenders to be published. Ibid. § 6.

The name and place of business of every person whose property shall be condemned under this act, or who shall be convicted of an offence under the previous section, shall be published in two newspapers published in the county.

Act subject to acceptance by cities and towns. Ibid. § 7.

This act shall not be in force in any city or town unless adopted by the city council of such city, or by the inhabitants of such town. [April 20, 1872.]

OFFENCES AGAINST CHASTITY, MORALITY, AND DECENCY.

Unlawful attempts, &c., to procure miscarriage. G. S. 165, § 9. 1845, 27. 11 Gray, 85. 14 Gray, 419. 15 Gray, 187. 16 Gray, 602. 13 Allen, 554.

Whoever, with intent to procure miscarriage of any woman, unlawfully administers to her, or advises or prescribes for her, or causes to be taken by her, any poison, drug, medicine, or other noxious thing, or unlawfully uses any instrument or other means whatever with the like intent, or with like intent aids or assists therein, shall, if the woman dies in consequence thereof, be imprisoned in the State prison not exceeding twenty nor less than five years, and, if the woman does not die in consequence thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding seven years nor less than one year, and by fine not exceeding two thousand dollars.

Advertising, &c., notices, &c., of means to procure abortion. Ibid. § 10. 1847, 83.

Whoever knowingly advertises, prints, publishes, distributes, or circulates, or knowingly causes to be advertised, printed, published, distributed, or circulated, any pamphlet, printed paper, book, newspaper, notice, advertisement, or reference, containing words or language giving or conveying any notice, hint, or reference, to any person, or to the name of any person, real or fictitious, from whom, or to any place, house, shop, or office, where any poison, drug, mixture, preparation, medicine, or noxious thing, or any instrument or means whatever, or any advice, direction, information, or knowledge, may be obtained for the purpose of causing or procuring the miscarriage of any woman pregnant with child, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison or jail not exceeding three years, or by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

DEAD BODIES.

Overseers of poor, &c., to give dead bodies to physicians in certain cases. G. S. 27, § 1.

The overseers of the poor of a town, the mayor and aldermen of a city, and the inspectors and superintendent of a State almshouse, may, to any physician or surgeon, upon his request, give permission to take the bodies of such persons dying in such town, city, or almshouse, as are required to be buried at the public expense, to be by him used within the State, for the advancement of anatomical science; preference being given to medical schools established by law, for their use in the instruction of students.

Every physician or surgeon, before receiving any such dead body, shall give to the board of officers surrendering the same to him, a sufficient bond that each body shall be used only for the promotion of anatomical science within this State, and so as in no event to outrage the public feeling; and that, after having been so used, the remains thereof shall be decently buried.

Physicians, &c., to give bond on receiving a dead body. G. S. 27, § 2.

Persons having charge of a poor-house, workhouse, or house of industry, in which a person required to be buried at the public expense dies, shall forthwith give notice of such death to the overseers of the poor of the town or to the mayor and aldermen of the city in which such death occurs; and, except in case of necessity, the body of such person shall not be buried until such notice is given, and permission therefor granted by such overseers or mayor and aldermen; nor without their permission shall the body be surrendered for dissection or mutilation.

Persons having charge of poor-house, &c., to give notice of death. Ibid. § 3.

If the deceased person, during his last sickness, of his own accord requested to be buried, or if, within twenty-four hours after his death, any person claiming to be, and satisfying the proper authorities that he is, a friend or of kindred to the deceased, asks to have the body buried, or if such deceased person was a stranger or traveller who suddenly died, the body shall not be so surrendered, but shall be buried.

When dead bodies are not to be given to physicians, &c. Ibid. § 4.

Whoever, not being authorized by the Board of Health, overseers of the poor, directors of a workhouse, selectmen, or mayor and aldermen of any city or town, by the board of directors for public institutions, or overseers of the poor of the city of Boston, wilfully digs up, disinters, removes, or conveys away, any human body, or the remains thereof, or knowingly aids in such disinterment, removal, or conveying away, and whoever is accessory thereto, either before or after the fact, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding one year, or in the jail not exceeding two years, or by fine not exceeding two thousand dollars.

Violation of sepulture, penalty for. G. S. 165, § 37. 10 Pick. 37. 19 Pick. 304.

Whoever buys, sells, or has in his possession for the purpose of buying or selling, or trafficking in, the dead body of any human being, shall be punished by fine of not pose of sale, &c. G. S. 165, § 38.

less than fifty nor exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the jail not less than three months nor exceeding three years.

REGISTRY AND RETURN OF . . . DEATHS.

Physician to certify, &c. G. S. 21, § 3.

Any physician having attended a person during his last illness, shall, when requested within fifteen days after the decease of such person, forthwith furnish for registration a certificate of the duration of the last sickness, the disease of which the person died, and the date of his decease as nearly as he can state the same. If any physician neglects or refuses to make such certificate, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten dollars for the use of the town in which he resides.

Penalty.

LAWS AND ORDINANCES OF JURIES.

Persons exempt from service on juries. G. S. 132, § 2.

The following persons shall be exempt from serving as jurors, to wit: — . . . practising physicians and surgeons regularly licensed. . . .

Special juries not affected. Ibid. § 40.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall affect the power and duty of coroners or magistrates to summon and empanel jurors when authorized by other provisions of law.

STATE LUNATIC HOSPITALS AND INSANE AND IDIOT PERSONS.

Insane persons, how committed to; on what evidence, &c. 1862, 223, § 3. 11 Gray, 107.

Any of the judges of the Supreme Judicial, Superior, and Probate Courts, and, in the city of Boston, of the Police Court, may commit to either of the State lunatic hospitals any insane person who, in their opinion, is a proper subject for its treatment or custody. But in all cases the evidence and certificate of at least two respectable physicians shall be required to establish the fact of insanity. In all cases the judge shall certify in what place the lunatic resided at the time of his commitment, or, if ordered to be confined by any court, the judge shall certify in what place the lunatic resided at the time of the arrest in pursuance of which he was held to answer before said court; and such certificate shall, for the purposes of this act, be conclusive evidence of his residence.*

On application for commitment to, notice to be first given to selectmen, &c. 1862, 223, § 4.

Any person applying for the commitment or for the admission of a lunatic to a State lunatic hospital, under the provisions of this act, shall first give notice in writing to the mayor or one or more of the selectmen of the place where the lunatic resides, of his intention to make such application; and satisfactory evidence that such notice has been given shall be produced to the judge in cases of commitment, and to the trustees upon application for admission.

Certificates of two physicians to be filed with application for admission into any insane hospital, &c. Ibid. § 8.

Upon every application for the admission of an insane person to the several State lunatic hospitals, or to any asylum or private house for the reception of the insane, the applicant shall file with his application a certificate, signed by two respectable physicians, one of whom, when practicable, shall be the family physician of the patient, certifying after due inquiry, or personal examination of the patient by them, within one week prior to the date of the certificate, to the insanity of the person in whose behalf admission is sought, and that such person is a fit subject for remedial treatment at such hospital, asylum, or private house.

Certificates for commitment of lunatics to be made

The eighth section of the two hundred and twenty-third chapter of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-

* The form to be adopted in the committal of insane persons is as follows: —

——, —— 187 . — This is to certify that, within one week of date, we have made due inquiry and personal examination of —— ——, aged —— years, and that he is, in our opinion, insane, and a proper subject for remedial treatment at a Hospital for the Insane.

—— ——, M.D.
—— ——, M.D.

NOTE. — This certificate must be signed by two respectable physicians, one of whom, when practicable, shall be the family physician of the patient. One of the physicians will fill out the following required statements: —

Duration of the disease?

Supposed cause?

Disposition, — whether mild, violent, dangerous, homicidal, suicidal, paralytic, or epileptic?

Habits in regard to temperance?

If the patient is a woman, whether she has borne children, and, if so, what time has elapsed since the birth of the youngest?

upon due inquiry and personal examination. 1865, 268, § 1.

two is hereby so amended that the certificate, signed by two respectable physicians, and required by said section shall be made according to the provisions of said section after due inquiry and personal examination of the patient by them.

Applicant for reception of any person to a lunatic hospital, &c., to file statement of certain facts, and superintendent to notify relatives. Ibid. § 2. G. S. 73. 1862, 223, § 5.

Upon application for the admission of an insane person to any State lunatic hospital, or to any asylum or private house for the reception of the insane, the applicant shall file, with his application, a statement containing the names and address of such insane person's father, mother, children, brothers, sisters, or next of kin, not exceeding ten in number, and over eighteen years of age, when the names and addresses of such relatives are known by the person or persons making such application, and such statement shall be filed with the order of commitment or application for admission. And the superintendent of such asylum or house for the reception of the insane shall, within two weeks from the time of admission or commitment of any insane person, send or cause to be sent notice of said commitment in writing, by mail, postage prepaid, to each of said relatives and to any other two persons whom the person committed shall designate.

PRIVATE ASYLUMS.

Private asylums for insane persons to be licensed. 1864, 288, § 8.

The Governor and Council may license any suitable person to establish and keep an asylum or private house for the reception and treatment of insane persons, and may at any time revoke such license. And such asylum or private house shall be subject to visitation by the Governor and Council or any committee thereof, and by the judge of the probate court of the county wherein the same is situated.

Penalty for keeping without license. Ibid. § 9.

Whoever establishes or keeps an asylum or private house without a license, unless otherwise authorized by law, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Commission for examination of lunatics in State prison, how constituted. 1862, 8, § 1. G.S. 180, § 1.

The commission for the examination of convicts in the State Prison, alleged to be insane, provided for in the one hundred and eighteenth chapter of the General Statutes, shall hereafter consist of the physician of the State Prison as chairman, the superintendents of the State Lunatic Hospitals at Worcester and Taunton, together with the superintendents of the McLean Asylum at Somerville and the Boston Lunatic Hospital.

ORDINANCES. BOSTON.

Duties of the mayor.

It shall be the duty of the mayor to be vigilant and active in protecting the public health; to see that the laws and ordinances in relation to the same are enforced; to communicate his views to the Board of Health or the city council from time to time, as he may deem expedient; and he shall have power to call upon the police and the various city officers to aid him in the performance of these duties.

COMMITTEE ON HEALTH.

Joint committee on health.

There shall be appointed annually, in the month of January, a joint committee of the city council on the health department, consisting of two aldermen and three councilmen. It shall be the duty of said committee to examine, as often as once in each month, the records and accounts of the Board of Health, and also to examine all applications for appropriations for the health department, and report thereon to the city council.

Committee to have control of expenditures for certain purposes.

Provisos.

The said committee shall have control of all the expenditures on account of the city teams, the city stables, the cleaning of cesspools and streets, the collection of ashes and offal, and the employment of the laborers required therefor: provided, however, that the expenditure for the purposes herein enumerated shall not exceed the amount previously appropriated therefor by the city council; and provided further, that the work of cleaning the cesspools and streets, and collecting the ashes and offal, and all contracts therefor, shall be performed in a manner entirely satisfactory to the Board of Health; and all contracts for such work shall contain the condition that they shall be performed to the satisfaction of the Board of Health.

Work to be satisfactory to board of health.

Estimates for financial year.

The said committee shall annually, on or before the 15th of February, make an estimate of the appropriations required during the ensuing financial year for and on account of the city teams, city stables, cleaning the cesspools and streets, collecting offal and ashes, and paying the laborers employed in connection therewith; and shall add the BOSTON. amount so estimated to the amount estimated by the Board of Health, as provided in section eight of this ordinance, and transmit the same to the auditor.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Appointment of board of health. In the month of November, in the year 1872, or as soon thereafter as may be, the mayor shall appoint, subject to the approval and confirmation of the city council, three persons, not members of the city council, who shall constitute the Board of Health in the city of Boston. The persons so appointed shall enter upon the duties of their office forthwith. The terms of office shall be so arranged at the time of their appointment that the term of one shall expire on the first Monday in May in each year after the year 1873, and the vacancy so created, as well as all vacancies occurring otherwise, shall be filled by the mayor, with the approval of the city council. The members of said Board shall at all times be subject to removal by the mayor for cause. For their services they shall receive such compensation as the city council may from time to time determine.

Terms of office.

Compensation.

Organization of board. The said Board shall organize annually by the choice of one of their members as chairman. They shall also choose a clerk, who shall not be a member of the Board; and they may make such rules and regulations for their own government, and for the government of all subordinate officers in their department, as they may deem expedient.

Clerk.

Powers and duties of board. The Board of Health, as hereby constituted, shall have and exercise all the powers vested in, and shall perform all the duties prescribed to, the city council or the board of aldermen as a Board of Health, under the statutes and ordinances now in force; and shall have power to appoint such subordinate officers, agents and assistants, in addition to those hereinafter designated, as they may deem necessary; and may fix their compensation, and the compensation of the clerk before mentioned; provided, that the whole amount of such compensation shall not exceed the sum appropriated therefor by the city council.

Estimates for financial year. The said Board shall annually, on or before the 15th day of February, send to the standing committee of the city council on the health department, an estimate, in detail of the appropriations required by the health department (except for the purposes named in section three of this ordinance) during the next financial year. All bills for expenditures from the appropriations for the health department, except those specially mentioned in this ordinance as being under the control of the standing committee of the city council, shall be drawn for by the chairman of said Board, examined by the auditor, and approved by the committee on accounts, before they are paid by the treasurer.

Annual report of board.

The said Board of Health shall annually, in the month of May or June, present to the city council a report made up to and including the thirtieth day of the preceding April, containing a full and comprehensive statement of the acts of the Board during the year, and a review of the sanitary condition of the city; and they shall at the same time transmit to the city council reports from the superintendent of health, city physician, and the port physician covering the same period.

CITY PHYSICIAN.

Appointment of city physician.

The said Board of Health shall annually, in the month of April, appoint, subject to the approval of the mayor, a suitable person for city physician, who shall hold his office for one year from the first Monday in May, in the year in which he is appointed, unless sooner removed; and he may be removed at the pleasure of the Board, and a vacancy may be filled at any time for the unexpired term. He shall perform such duties, in addition to those hereinafter designated, keep such records, and make such reports, as the Board of Health may from time to time direct. For his services he shall receive such compensation as the city council may from time to time determine. Said Board may also appoint such assistants to the city physician as they may from time to time deem necessary.

Duties of city physician.

The city physician, when notified thereof, shall examine into all nuisances, sources of filth, and causes of sickness which may be on board of any vessel at any wharf within the harbor of Boston, or which may have been landed from any vessel on any wharf, or other place; and, under the direction of the Board of Health, shall cause the same to be removed or destroyed.

BOSTON.

Vaccination.

The city physician shall vaccinate and revaccinate, without charge, any inhabitant of Boston who may apply for that purpose; he shall also give certificates of vaccination to such children as have been vaccinated, and require such certificates for admission to the public schools; provided, that no person shall be entitled to the benefits of this section who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to return to the office of the city physician, when requested by him, for the purpose of enabling him to ascertain the effect of the vaccination, or to renew the necessary supply of virus for the use of said office.

Supply of vaccine virus.

He shall always have on hand, as far as is practicable, a sufficient quantity of vaccine virus, and he shall supply the physicians of the city institutions, and the dispensary, with the same, without expense to them.

Physician to examine causes of diseases, &c.

He shall examine all causes of disease within the city, and inquire into all sources of danger to the public health, whenever called upon by the mayor or the Board of Health for the time being, and shall give his professional services and advice therein at all times when required.

Shall attend jail, city prison, &c.

The city physician shall attend upon all cases of disease, and perform all the professional services that may be required in the jail, city prison under the court-house, in the city temporary home, and in the several police stations in the city, except those at East and South Boston. He shall, when requested by the mayor, board of aldermen, or chief of police, examine all candidates for appointment on the police force; examine the condition of all officers absent from duty from disability; also all cases of accidental injury whereby the city may become liable; and shall report to the city registrar, when requested by him, the causes of death of all persons dying with no physician in attendance.

Shall examine candidates for police.

Notice to be given of vessels containing hides, &c.

Whenever any vessel arrives in the harbor of Boston, between the first day of April and the fifteenth day of November in any year, having on board any hides, hide-cuttings, skins, rags, or fruit, the harbor police shall give immediate notice thereof to the city physician.

Masters and consignees to give notice.

Every master and consignee of any vessel, arriving within the time fixed in the preceding section, and containing the articles therein named, or any of them, shall give immediate notice of the arrival of such vessel to the harbor master or the city physician. BOSTON.

QUARANTINE.

The quarantine grounds of the city of Boston shall consist of Deer Island and Gallop's Island, in Boston Harbor; and said islands are hereby made and declared to be the places of quarantine for the port of Boston. Quarantine.

PORT PHYSICIAN.

The said Board of Health shall annually, in the month of April, appoint, subject to the approval of the mayor, a suitable person for port physician, who shall hold his office for one year from the first Monday in May, in the year in which he is appointed, unless sooner removed; and he may be removed at the pleasure of the Board, and a vacancy may be filled at any time for the unexpired term. He shall perform such duties in addition to those hereinafter designated, keep such records, and make such reports, as the Board of Health may from time to time direct. For his services he shall receive such compensation as the city council may from time to time determine. Appointment of port physician.

The port physician shall reside at Deer Island. He shall be superintendent and physician of the quarantine establishment at Deer Island, and either physician or assistant physician, as the board of directors for public institutions may elect, of all the city establishments which are, or may be, located upon said Island. He shall also perform all such services as may be required of him by the mayor, or the Board of Health, in relation to quarantine. Duties of port physician.

The port physician may, at any time, with the concurrence of the Board of Health, appoint an assistant port physician, to hold his office so long as the Board of Health shall determine; and such port physician shall receive such compensation for his services as may be appropriated therefor by the city council. Appointment of assistant port physician.

CITY HOSPITAL.

The Board of Trustees shall elect annually, in the month of May, and whenever a vacancy may occur, some suitable Appointment of resident physician. person as superintendent of the said hospital, who shall constantly reside at the institution. He may be removed at their pleasure, and shall receive such compensation as the City Council may from time to time determine.

CHELSEA.

AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO THE DUTIES OF CITY PHYSICIAN.

Duties of city physician. 5, § 13. It shall be the duty of the City Physician to attend, under the general direction of the Overseers of the Poor, upon all persons confined in the city lock-up who may require medical or surgical attention, and upon all sick paupers and patients under the care of the city authorities (within the limits of the city), "to render all services required by law of physicians appointed by boards of health, and to report annually, in January, to the City Council, a list of deaths of the previous year, stating the age, sex, and disease of the persons deceased. In case of alarm of any infectious or contagious disease, he shall give to the Board of Health all such professional advice and counsel as they may request, and shall vaccinate all scholars of the public schools who may be sent to him for that purpose by the School Committee."

Fee Table — Boston (City proper).

For each visit, either medical, surgical, or obstetrical, in cases of regular attendance, $3.00. For the first visit in a new case, it shall be considered proper to make a charge of from three to five dollars, and a similar charge should be made in cases in which but a single visit is required. In cases also of extraordinary service, detention, or attendance, or when, for any reason, the case is one of unusual importance or responsibility, the charge should be proportionally increased; and the duty to make such increased charge shall be considered obligatory upon the practitioner.

For a visit in consultation, from $5.00 to $10.00. In case of a consultation, the attending physician may also charge the usual consultation fee instead of the fee for an ordinary visit. For each subsequent visit in consultation, where the attendance is continuous, the fee may be from $3.00 to $5.00.

For a visit after 9 P.M. and before 8 A.M., from $5.00 to $10.00. In cases of consultation or other extraordinary attendance in the night, the fee for such extra attendance shall be added to that for a night visit.

For attendance involving travel out of town, mileage shall be charged at a rate per mile, for short distances, of from $1.00 to $2.00. In cases of longer distances, travelled by railroad, the mileage may be reckoned, according to the time saved to the practitioner, at from half a dollar to a dollar.

For advice at the physician's house, according to the importance of the case, unseasonableness of the hour, or time occupied, from $3.00 to $20.00.

For a letter of advice, according to the importance of the case, or the time occupied, from $10.00 to $20.00.

For an opinion involving a question of law in which the physician may be subpœnaed, $50.00. The above charge shall also be allowed in cases in which the physician is subpœnaed in consequence of an opinion obtained under any other pretext, but which is afterwards sought to be introduced as evidence in a suit or action. Also for attendance in court as an expert. In case of an opinion involving special study or experimental investigation, such additional service shall be charged in proportion to the time and labor expended. In case of detention in court as an expert, or in a matter involving a professional opinion, for each day's attendance after the first, the fee shall be $50.00.

For a certificate of health, $5.00.

For a post-mortem examination in a case of legal investigation, $50.00.

For post-mortem examination made at the request of the family or relations of the deceased, $20.00.

For vaccine inoculation, $5.00.

It is recommended that in the treatment of gonorrhœa or syphilis, the first charge shall be from $5.00 to $10.00, the subsequent charges to be as in cases of ordinary attendance or advice.

MIDWIFERY.

For attendance during labor in the day-time, $20.00. For attendance, if any part of the attendance is in the night, $30.00. For attendance during tedious labor, it shall be considered obligatory to make such additional charge as, in the discretion of the practitioner, the extraordinary detention or service shall seem to demand.

Obstetric operations, when necessary, shall be charged in addition to the usual fee for attendance.

In obstetrical practice, all subsequent visits shall be charged as in ordinary cases of attendance.

In cases of labor when the child is born, but not the placenta, before the arrival of the accoucheur, the whole fee is to be charged. When both the child and placenta are born before the arrival of the accoucheur, half or the whole fee may be charged, according to circumstances. This rule is intended to apply to cases in which the services of the accoucheur have been previously engaged, and in which the delay does not arise from his fault.

If, in any case of labor, a second physician is called in consultation, and subsequently detained in joint attendance, both attending and consulting physicians shall be entitled to the full fee for attendance, and also to such additional amount as may be deemed proper in view of the importance of the case, the unseasonableness of the hour, or any extraordinary detention, or service rendered.

OPERATIVE SURGERY.

For capital operations, or operations of unusual difficulty, such as amputations of large limbs, ligation of large arteries, operations for stone in the bladder, removal of breasts or of other large tumors, operations for cataract, for strangulated hernia, for vesico-vaginal fistula, for cleft palate, &c., $100.00 to $500.00, according to the importance of the case and the pecuniary circumstances of the patient.

For operations of secondary importance or difficulty, such as operations for fistula in ano, for hare-lip, for the radical cure of hydrocele, tapping and injection of ovarian cysts, reduction of dislocations or fractures of large bones, amputation of fingers or toes, tracheotomy, removal of small tumors not involving important organs, passing catheter in cases of obstruction, ligature of arteries of secondary size, &c., $25.00 to $100.00.

For minor operations, such as excision of tonsils, removal of nasal polypi, tapping for hydrocele or for ascites, opening abscesses, catheterism, stitching recent wounds, cupping, passing setons, excision of wens, &c., $5.00 to $25.00.

After surgical operations, all subsequent visits shall be charged as in ordinary cases of attendance.

It is not designed by these regulations to prevent the members of this Association from rendering their services gratuitously to persons who are incapable of remunerating them without distressing themselves or their families; and in every case, in settling his account, the practitioner may make any deduction which he conscientiously believes that the circumstances of the patient render necessary.

No member of this Association shall omit charging any necessary visits made on the same day, on account of their number.

No member of this Association shall make a previous contract with any family for a definite sum, as a remuneration for his annual attendance on that family.

Those physicians of the adjoining towns who are members of the Massachusetts Medical Society, or have been licensed by it, shall be requested to conform, in their charges, to the fee-bill of this Association, whenever they attend patients in the City.

Warren Museum.

Medical College, North Grove Street, Boston.

The nucleus of this collection was formed by Dr. John C. Warren, who presented his collection to Harvard College, with five thousand dollars for its proper preservation, for the purpose of illustrating the lectures at the Medical School. The preparations were mostly the result of his own labors for forty or fifty years, with those of his friends and pupils. Among the gentlemen engaged in making preparations for it were Drs. Gamage, Edward Warren, Wyman, George Parkman, Samuel Parkman, and Winslow Lewis.

Anatomical preparations were given to Dr. Warren, from time to time, by Drs. James Jackson, John Gorham, J. B. S. Jackson, and others. Many specimens were added to it, both surgical and anatomical, by Dr. J. M. Warren, who, during his visits to Europe, made a large collection of morbid bones and of the anatomical preparations of Auzoux.

Since the collection came into the possession of the College in 1847, it has been largely increased by gifts from various members of the profession and by the constant labors of its curator, Dr. J. B. S. Jackson. A detailed catalogue of the specimens in the Museum has been published.*

The Museum of the College now contains the Model Museum of Dermatology and Syphilography, established by Dr. Edward Wigglesworth, Jr., and by him given to the College. It is composed of models of diseases of the skin, each model being made from a cast taken directly from the patient, and subsequently colored at the bedside. The models were made by the celebrated French artist, Baretta, modeller to the hospitals of Paris, and with him the composition and method of staining employed remain a secret.

The Museum comprises all the best specimens of the Museum of the St. Louis Hospital, as well as of the private collection of M. Baretta, and is the first collection of these models brought to America. It contains about 200 specimens, and ranks, in point of numbers, second only to the collection of St. Louis. M. Baretta has given special attention to this Museum, and he offers it in America as a specimen of his powers, by which he is willing to be judged.

The Warren Museum may be inspected by any person on making application at the College.

Warren Museum of Natural History.

92 Chestnut Street, Boston.

Incorporated by the Legislature, February 19, 1858. The collections contained in this building have for their nucleus the skeleton of the Great Mastodon, — the only perfect specimen in existence, — which was discovered in 1845, near the Hudson River at Newburgh, and purchased in 1846 by Dr. John C. Warren. Dr. Warren, knowing that all collections were, sooner or later, destroyed by fire, in 1849 erected the present fire-proof building for the preservation of this specimen and for his other valuable collections in Natural History.

The lower hall of the building contains the skeleton of the Mastodon. At the side of it, and for the purpose of comparison, is that of the elephant "Pizarro," one of the largest elephants ever brought to this country, together with that of a horse. The room also contains one or two skeletons of the Mastodon which have not been articulated, and a great number of the heads and teeth of animals at different periods of life. There are also the head of a whale and casts of heads of various animals from the British Museum, among which are those of fossil heads of elephants from the Himalaya Mountains. Around the room is arranged a specimen of the fossil skeleton of the Zeuglodon Cetoides, sixty feet long.

In the hall are slabs containing the fossil impressions of gigantic birds and of other large animals. The story above contains the specimens belonging to the late Dr. J. M. Warren. They consist of large collections of crania from all parts of the world, both human and comparative; a specimen of the Ornithorynchus Paradoxus, with the stuffed skins of the male and female. Here is also the head, heart, and brain of Spurzheim, and a cast of his face taken immediately after death by Dr. Winslow Lewis, and an original picture of him by Fisher. The interesting collection of Peruvian mummies and crania, brought by John H. Blake, Esq., from ancient Peruvian cemeteries near Arica, are deposited in this room. Some of these crania, with others in the collection, are described in the work of Dr. Daniel Wilson on Prehistoric Man. In the smaller room are a collection of anatomical preparations, illustrative of healthy and morbid anatomy; also casts of the egg of the gigantic birds, Epyornis and Dinornis, from New Zealand and New Holland, and many other objects of interest. The Museum can be visited by making application to Dr. J. Collins Warren, 2 Park Street, or Dr. Thomas Dwight, Jr., 9 Charles Street.

OFFICERS.

President — Mrs. Thomas Dwight.
Treasurer — Charles Lyman.
Secretary — Mrs. William Appleton.

Medical Libraries.

There are several extensive collections of books on medical subjects in Boston, and other cities in the State, which are accessible to physicians and medical students. In addition to those named below, many physicians have large and important libraries, particularly rich on special subjects.

PUBLIC LIBRARY, BOSTON.

Boylston Street, near Tremont. 260,000 volumes, of which over 10,000 are medical: 215,000 are in the central library in Boylston Street, and the remainder in the branches in the other portions of the city. The library can be consulted by any person making application. Books can be taken from the library by any inhabitant (a limited stay in the city constitutes one such), on presentation of his library card. The card is given on application at the library.

BOSTON ATHENÆUM.

Beacon Street, near Park. 90,000 volumes, 4,500 of which are medical. The privileges of this private library can be enjoyed through friends who may be stockholders.

LIBRARY OF THE MASSACHUSETTS MEDICAL COLLEGE.

A large library of standard books of reference and recent authorities is open to members of the medical class on the deposit of $5.00, to be returned when they shall cease to use the library, and return all books loaned to them. The library room is open daily.

THE TREADWELL LIBRARY.

At the Massachusetts General Hospital, Blossom Street. 5,000 volumes. This collection was the gift to the Hospital of the late Dr. Treadwell, of Salem. It is for the use of the officers of the Hospital, and may be consulted by others by special favor.

LIBRARY OF THE WORCESTER DISTRICT MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Public Library Building, Worcester. 4,000 volumes, increased each year by the income derived from the Waldo and Wilder Funds, yielding annually about $1,500.

LIBRARY OF THE THURBER MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, MILFORD.

The Association has a library of upwards of 200 volumes, and a fund of $600, the income of which is applied for the purchase of medical books.

Prizes.

The following prizes are offered for universal competition by Physicians and Medical Students: —

AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION PRIZES.

The Committee of the Association on Prize Essays is authorized to receive original papers on any medical subject, from any persons who may choose to send them; to decide upon the merits of these papers, and to select for presentation to the Association at its next session such as they may deem worthy of being thus presented. They may award two prizes, of $100 each, to the best two original communications.

The Chairman of the Committee for 1874–75 is Dr. J. D. Jackson, of Kentucky, to whom all communications must be sent, with name and address of the author in a sealed envelope, on or before the 15th of April preceding the session. A declaration of authorship to any member of the Committee is to be regarded as a disqualification.

BOYLSTON MEDICAL PRIZE.

The Boylston Medical Committee, appointed by the President and Fellows of Harvard University, consists of the following Physicians: —

J. B. S. Jackson, M.D.
D. H. Storer, M. D.
C. G. Putnam, M.D.
Morrill Wyman, M.D.
H. J. Bigelow, M.D.
R. M. Hodges, M.D.
Calvin Ellis, M.D.
Samuel Cabot, M.D.
Francis Minot, M.D.

The following are the subjects proposed for 1875: —

1. Original Researches in Medical Science.
2. So-called "Concussion of the Spine."

Dissertations on the above subjects must be transmitted, postpaid, to J. B. S. Jackson, M.D., Boston, on or before the first Wednesday in April, 1875.

The author of a dissertation, considered worthy of a prize, on either of the subjects proposed for 1875, will be entitled to a premium of one hundred and fifty dollars.

The following are the questions proposed for 1876: —

1. Civil Hospital Construction (not of Lunatic Asylums); Location, Materials, Arrangement, Warming, Ventilation, Drainage, Lighting; with Designs.

The author of a dissertation on this subject, considered worthy of a prize, will be entitled to a premium of three hundred dollars.

2. Do women require mental and bodily rest during menstruation; and to what extent?

The author of a dissertation on this subject, considered worthy of a prize, will be entitled to a premium of two hundred dollars.

Dissertations on these subjects must be transmitted as above, on or before the first Wednesday in April, 1876.

Each dissertation must be accompanied by a sealed packet on which shall be written some device or sentence, and within which shall be enclosed the author's name and residence. The same device or sentence is to be written on the dissertation to which the packet is attached.

The writer of each dissertation is expected to transmit his communication to the President of the Committee, in a distinct and plain handwriting, and with the pages bound in book form, within the time specified.

Any clue by which the authorship of a dissertation is made known to the Committee will debar such dissertation from competition.

Preference will be given to dissertations which exhibit original work.

All unsuccessful dissertations are deposited with the Secretary, from whom they may be obtained, with the sealed packet unopened, if called for within one year after they have been received.

WARREN PRIZE.

The Warren Prize for 1877, amounting to somewhat less than $400, will be awarded to the author of the best essay considered worthy of a prize on any subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathological Anatomy, embodying original researches.

Each essay should be accompanied with a sealed envelope, containing the author's name and address, and be sent to Dr. Norton Folsom, Resident Physician, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, on or before February 1, 1877.

FISKE MEDICAL PRIZE.

The Trustees of the Fiske Fund, at the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Medical Society, held in Providence, June 10, gave notice that no award had been made on the subjects proposed by them for the year 1874.

They propose the following subjects for 1875: —

1. Cerebro-spinal meningitis, its pathology and treatment.
2. Pyæmia.

For the best dissertation on each or either of these subjects, they will pay two hundred dollars.

Every competitor for a premium is expected to conform to the following regulations; viz. : —

To forward to the Secretary of the Trustees, S. Aug. Arnold, M.D., Providence, R.I., on or before the first day of May, 1875, free of all expense, a copy of his dissertation, with a motto written thereupon, and also accompanying a sealed packet, having the same motto inscribed upon the outside, and his name and place of residence within.

Previously to receiving the premium awarded, the author of the successful dissertation must transfer to the Trustees all his right, title, and interest in and to the same, for the use, benefit, and behoof of the Fiske Fund.

BOYLSTON MEDICAL SOCIETY PRIZES.

In accordance with the will of the founder of the Society, Dr. Ward Nicholas Boylston, the sum of twenty-five dollars is appropriated annually, to be given in two prizes of fifteen and ten dollars respectively, to the author or authors of the most approved dissertation, considered worthy, on medical subjects to be selected by the author. The prize is open only to active members of the Society. The fund is cared for by a board of seven trustees, practising physicians in the Commonwealth, selected by the Society; the prize is awarded by a committee of five physicians, also chosen by the Society. The names of the trustees and of the committee for the present year are given on page 49.

Dissertations must be placed in the hands of the President of the Society on or before the 1st of January, together with a sealed envelope containing name and address of the author. The decision of the committee is announced at the last meeting of the Society in February.

EBERT PRIZE.

The income of $500.00 is given annually by the American Pharmaceutical Society as a prize for the best essay, written by a member, containing original investigations of a medicinal substance, determining new properties or containing other meritorious contributions to knowledge. The fund for this prize was given to the Association in 1873, by A. E. Ebert, of Chicago.

DIRECTORY AND BUSINESS GUIDE.

EXPLANATION OF ALPHABETICAL AND LOCAL LISTS OF THE MASSACHUSETTS MEDICAL SOCIETY.

It is intended that these lists shall contain all members of the Society, living within the State, both active and retired, so far as they can be ascertained. Those names of members who, in the official catalogue of the Society, are referred to certain towns in which they have last resided, but who are known not to be there at the present time, are, as a rule, omitted.

In the Alphabetical List the date, following the residence, is that of admission to the Society. The figures following the date denote the office hours. The date of academic and professional degrees, membership in societies, official positions held, authorship of books and articles, are given in succession. Except the date and source of the first academic and the medical degrees, however, no facts are given other than those authorized by the members themselves. This statement will explain the frequent omission of important data. The asterisk (*) signifies that no return has been made to the author's circular. The dagger (†) marks retired members, who still live within the State. Want of space prevents the publication of more than three periodical articles.

In the Local List the date of incorporation follows the name of the town and county. The succeeding figures indicate the population as given in the U. S. Census of 1870. The name of the post-office is given in brackets, when not fully indicated by the name of the town.

Under the head of Boston (Suffolk County) are included all those living in the city, as at present constituted ; though residents of portions formerly known as Roxbury, Dorchester, and West Roxbury are still considered by the Society as belonging to the Norfolk District Society, and those in Charlestown and Brighton to the Middlesex South District Society.

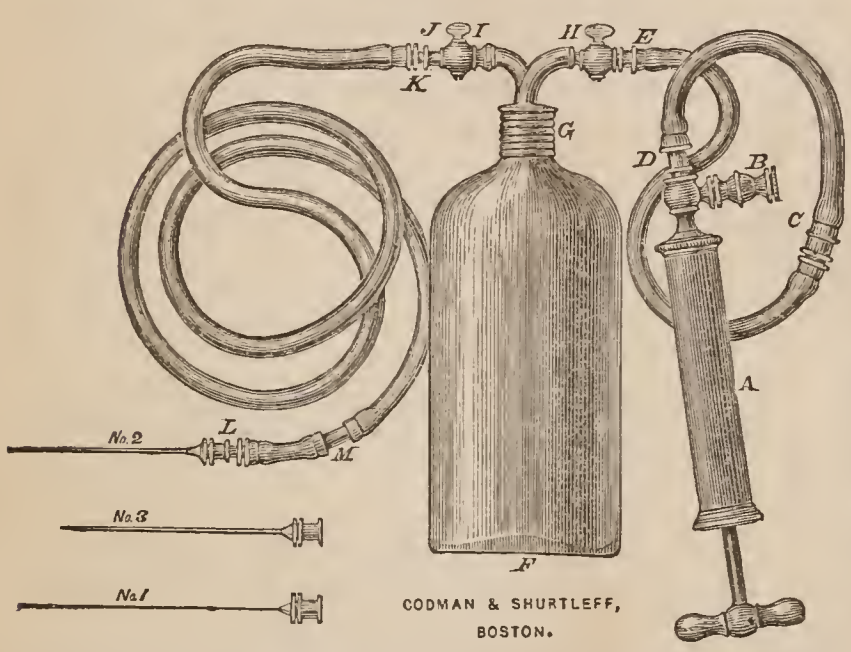
We invite the attention of the Medical Profession to

A New Apparatus for Aspiration,

Constructed upon the general plan of Potain's modification of Dieulafoy's Aspirator, but containing the following improvements and inventions of our own:—

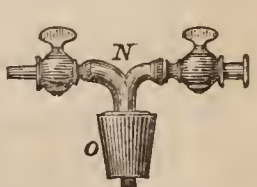


1st. Means of changing the pump from an exhaust to a force-pump, and vice versa, thereby enabling the operator not only to withdraw an abnormal fluid, but to inject the cavity through the tubes and needle of the apparatus with one adapted to induce healthy action. — See Dieulafoy on Aspiration, pp. 276, 278.

2d. The employment, in our apparatus No. 1, of a metal Screw Cap, fitting the neck of the receiver supplied with this apparatus so securely that it cannot be forced from its place by condensed air while injecting, or accidentally removed while the receiver is in a state of vacuum for aspiration.

3d. The use of indestructible valves, instead of the oiled silk valves of French and other American apparatus, which are almost certainly injured by contact with liquids.

4th. An attachment for evacuating the contents of the stomach by adaptation to the pump and valves which accompany the aspirator of a suitable stopper, cocks, rubber hose, and stomach tube.



Commendations bestowed upon Nos. 1 and 2, by physicians familiar with the latest European and American Aspirators, lead us to believe that, in some important particulars at least, they are superior to any.

LIBRARY

OF THE

Surgeon General's Office, U.S.A.,

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The assistance of Physicians is requested to complete the files of the National Medical Library at Washington, under the charge of the Surgeon General, U. S. Army. Reports of Asylums and Hospitals, Announcements and Catalogues of Medical Schools, Lectures and Addresses by Physicians, and Medical Tracts or Pamphlets of all kinds are desired.

The only source from which it is possible to procure such Pamphlets is from Physicians who may have preserved them, and who will take the trouble to collect and forward them, from the closets or garrets in which they have been stored.

In view of the importance of having one complete collection of the literature and history of American Medicine, it is hoped that the above request will receive attention. Communications or packages for the Library may be addressed to

DR. J. S. BILLINGS, U.S.A.,
Librarian Surgeon-General's Office, Washington, D.C.

The compiler of "The Medical Register" is in correspondence with the Librarian of the S. G. O.; and will forward packages of books and pamphlets which may be sent him.

FOR THE SPECIAL COLLECTION OF PHYSICIANS' ACCOUNTS.

No. 3 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

NOTICE TO PHYSICIANS.

We have made complete arrangements for systematically and promptly collecting all such throughout the city and neighborhood. Every effort is made to trace parties who have moved, and most energetic steps are taken to compel reluctant and dilatory debtors to settle.

Should you intrust us with your collections, we shall take your instructions as to the manner in which you wish your debtors treated; whether with delicacy, so as not to offend them, or with such severity as to show that no trifling is intended.

Terms ten per cent commission on the amount we collect.

One of our firm will call upon you if you wish it, or we shall be glad to see you at our office.

Yours obediently,

J. E. CUPPLES & CO,

Proprietors and Publishers of "The New England Mercantile Guide."

Kidder's Asthmatic Pastilles

Have, without any puffing or extravagant promises, quietly won their way to public favor, and are now affording sure relief to thousands. The proprietors have many unsolicited testimonials of their beneficial effects.

The grateful odor and quick effect of the BURNING Pastille render it particularly acceptable, as the patient is at once relieved from the most distressing paroxysms of Asthma, while inhaling a delightful perfume. In most cases of Bronchial affections, it has also been found to give great relief.

☞ If the Pastilles should become damp, and fail to burn freely, dry them thoroughly by exposure to moderate heat.

THE PHYSICIAN'S

DAILY ACCOUNT BOOK.

This Account Book has been in use many years, and has proved most convenient and economical to the practising physician. It is constructed upon the plan which physicians consider best adapted to the limited time they have to bestow upon the proper keeping and making out of their accounts. A Cash-Book and Ledger accompany the daily account; but, as some prefer a different arrangement in making their charges, the following kinds of the books are furnished, with prices annexed: —

Large size, with Day-Book, a Cash-Book, and Ledger, 300 pages	$4.00
Small size, with the same, 200 pages	3.00
Large size, Day-Book only (bound up especially for physicians preferring separate Cash-Book and Ledger), 300 pages	4.00
Small size, same, 200 pages	3.00

The books are substantially bound in cloth, printed on good paper, and in all respects superior.

☞ Orders, with the amount enclosed, may be sent by mail to the Publishers, and the book will be forwarded by express, or as otherwise directed. Sample pages sent if desired.

Annual Cash Dividends to Policy-Holders.

Policies and Dividends protected from Forfeiture.

The entire profits are equitably divided among the Policy-Holders annually. Dividends are never forfeited (a feature peculiar to this Company).

It is the only Company which applies its dividends to hold good a policy which otherwise would be null and void from non-payment of Premium. If a Policy which has a dividend credited upon it lapses from non-payment of Premium, the Company will hold the Policy good for such proportion of a year (or years) as the Dividend bears to the annual Premium. For instance, a man paying a Premium of $365 annually on a Life-Policy of $10.000, and having Dividends of $288 standing to his credit, would be held insured for $10,000 for 288 days (9 months, 18 days), after failing to pay his Premium! In some cases, the accumulated Dividends would keep a Policy in force several years.

LACTOPEPTINE.

COMPOSITION OF LACTOPEPTINE.

- PEPSIN.
- PTYALIN.
- PANCREATINE.
- LACTIC ACID.
- HYDROCHLORIC ACID.

One drachm of LACTOPEPTINE will digest from 12 to 15 drachms of Albumen, or any kind of cooked Animal or Vegetable Food.

LACTOPEPTINE contains the five active agents of digestion, combined in the same proportion as they exist in the human system.

Its digestive power is from three to four times that of Pepsin (described in the "United States Dispensatory," page 1685), and has the all-important advantage of dissolving all aliment used as food by mankind, while Pepsin acts only upon food of a plastic nature.

Physicians can test it with satisfaction, for its effects are positive and immediate.

It is presented in a saccharated form, and will be readily taken by the youngest child. It is used in the various forms of DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, VOMITING IN PREGNANCY, CONSTIPATION, GENERAL DEBILITY, and all diseases arising from Imperfect Nutrition.

It is prepared in the form of Powder, Sugar-coated Pills, Wine, Elixir, Syrup, Troches, &c.

PRIVATE RETREAT

For the care and treatment of Persons afflicted with

MENTAL AND NERVOUS DISEASES,

Seaver Street, Boston.

UNDER THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF EDWARD MEAD, M.D.,

Member of the Massachusetts and the Ohio State Medical Societies; Late Professor of Insanity and Medical Jurisprudence in the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery, formerly of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children in the same; and of Materia Medica and Therapeutics in the Medical Department of Illinois College.

For retirement, beauty of grounds, general salubrity, spacious apartments, and other curative and ameliorating influences, this institution presents superior advantages.

Dr. Mead has devoted the greater part of thirty-three years to the study, practice, and teaching of this specialty.

Letters of commendation and testimonials have been received from many prominent physicians and experts, among whom are Professors MUSSEY, MENDENHALL, and DAVIS, of the Miami Medical College; Professors WRIGHT, GRAHAM, and DAVISON, of the Medical College of Ohio, and the following superintendents of public institutions: —

ISAAC RAY, M.D., Philadelphia; T. S. KIRKBRIDE, M.D., Philadelphia; C. A. WALKER, M.D., Boston; JOHN E. TYLER, M.D., Boston; JOHN CURWEN, M.D., Harrisburg, Pa.; D. T. BROWN, M.D., New York; C. H. NICHOLS, M.D., Washington, D.C.; JOHN S. BUTLER, M.D., Hartford, Ct.; JOHN P. GRAY, M.D., Utica, N.Y.; PLINY EARLE, M.D., Northampton, Mass.; H. M. HARLOW, M.D., Augusta, Me.

Reference is also made, by permission, to EPHRAIM CUTTER, M.D., of Woburn.

Physicians are respectfully invited to visit the Retreat.

PROSPECTUS OF THE AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL JOURNAL.

NEW SERIES.

Devoted chiefly to the elucidation of Mental Pathology, and the Medical Jurisprudence of Insanity. Conducted by EDWARD MEAD, M.D.

A quarterly publication comprising 100 pages per number, commencing on the first of January, 1875.

It is proposed to revive this journal, which was established in 1853, under the same editorship. Its design is to present a periscopic view of the facts of insanity, with their practical application, and to discuss at large the medico-legal relations of the insane, in the form of Essays and Lectures from the pens of able contributors. It will also embrace the results of the latest researches concerning the functions of the brain and nervous system, together with their various pathological phases. Clinical reports will be given, so far as they can be obtained, with the results of the employment of new methods of treatment.

The history of institutions, and the most approved plans of construction and organization, statistics, reports of important trials, bibliographical reviews, and notices, with such items of current literature as have a legitimate connection with the general subject, will be embraced within the scope of the plan.

The discussion of these important topics will render the journal valuable to members of the medical and legal professions, as well as to non-professional readers who feel an interest in the progress of psychological science.

It will be printed in new, clear type, on fine paper. Subscription price two dollars per year, payable on receipt of the first number.

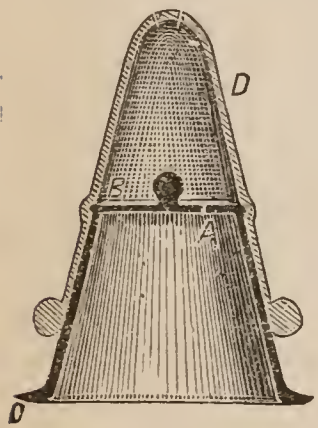
Publication Office, Seaver Street, Boston.

KENT'S

METALLIC NIPPLE SHIELD

AND CAOUTCHOUC TEAT

Is recommended to the Medical Profession, especially to Accoucheurs, as furnishing the only perfect mechanical substitute adapted to all cases of excoriated and retracted nipple.



A is a metallic shield with an opening on the top, closed by an automatic rubber valve.

B is a raised rim to hold the elastic nipple in place.

C, the bottom flange, is bevelled on inside and rounded to outer edge. This allows a smooth surface to press against the breast.

D is a rubber teat pressed over the shield and retained in place by the rim B.

The contrivances hitherto devised for the purpose have generally fallen into disuse on account of radical defects in construction, and the substitute now offered has been withheld until it could be thoroughly tested in a class of cases which have resisted medical treatment. How it obviates the most objectionable feature of the ordinary appliances, and in what respects is superior to them, is at once apparent upon examining the cut and reading the explanation.

Testimonials in its favor can be produced from the most eminent medical practitioners in the country.

For sale by druggists generally.

THE BOSTON
JOURNAL OF CHEMISTRY.

A Monthly Journal, devoted to Chemistry, Medicine, Agriculture, and the Arts.

Price, One Dollar per annum, in advance.

The Boston "JOURNAL OF CHEMISTRY," now in its ninth year, has become the most popular journal of science published in the United States. It differs essentially from all other journals, and is conducted in a manner which makes it acceptable to men of the highest scientific attainments, as well as to general readers; does not confine its attention to chemistry as a specialty, but matters connected with HYGIENE, INDUSTRIAL PROCESSES, ARTS, AGRICULTURE, &c., are presented every month in its pages.

The success and usefulness of the practitioner does not depend upon his knowledge of medicine alone. He must indeed be a good physician, but he must also be a man of general culture; he must have a knowledge of the principles at least of all the sciences. He must be prepared to give advice upon many matters connected with chemistry, geology, hygiene, scientific agriculture, &c., and for information upon all these points the best and cheapest source is the "BOSTON JOURNAL OF CHEMISTRY."

Physicians in any part of the United States can have specimen numbers sent to them by addressing the Publishers, WINTER AND SUMMER SESSIONS.

THE COLLEGIATE YEAR in this Institution embraces preliminary Autumnal Term, the Regular Winter Session, and a Summer Session.

THE PRELIMINARY AUTUMNAL TERM opens about the middle of September, and continues until the opening of the Regular Session. During this term, instruction, consisting of didactic lectures on special subjects and daily clinical lectures, will be given, as heretofore, by the entire Faculty. Students designing to attend the Regular Session are strongly recommended to attend the Preliminary Term, but attendance during the latter is not required. During the Preliminary Term, clinical and didactic lectures will be given in precisely the same number and order as the Regular Session.

THE REGULAR SESSION opens about the first of October, and continues until about the first of March.

FACULTY.

ISAAC E. TAYLOR, M D , Emeritus Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children, and President of the College; JAMES R. WOOD, M.D., LL.D., Emeritus Professor of Surgery; FORDYCE BARKER, M.D., Professor of Clinical Midwifery and Diseases of Women.

AUSTIN FLINT, M.D., Professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine and Clinical Medicine; FRANK H. HAMILTON, M.D., LL.D., Professor of Practice of Surgery with Operations and Clinical Surgery; LEWIS A. SAYRE, M.D., Professor of Orthopedic Surgery and Clinical Surgery; ALEXANDER B. MOTT, M.D., Professor of Clinical and Operative Surgery; W. H. VAN BUREN, M.D., Professor of Principles of Surgery with Diseases of Genito-Urinary System and Clinical Surgery; WILLIAM T. LUSK, M D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children and Clinical Midwifery; EDMUND R. PEASLEE, M D., LL D., Professor of Gynæcology; EDWARD G. JANEWAY, M.D., Lecturer on Materia Medica and Therapeutics and Clinical Medicine; AUSTIN FLINT, Jr., M.D., Professor of Physiology and Physiological Anatomy, and Secretary of the Faculty; ALPHEUS B. CROSBY, M.D., Professor of General, Descriptive, and Surgical Anatomy; R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M.D., Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology.

PROFESSORS OF SPECIAL DEPARTMENTS, &c.

HENRY D. NOYES, M.D., Professor of Ophthalmology and Otology; EDWARD L KEYES, M.D., Professor of Dermatology, and Assistant to the Chair of Principles of Surgery, &c.; EDWARD G. JANEWAY, M.D., Professor of Pathological and Practical Anatomy (Demonstrator of Anatomy).

A distinctive feature of the method of instruction in this College is the union of clinical and didactic teaching. All the lectures are given within the Hospital grounds. During the regular Winter Session, in addition to four didactic lectures on every week-day except Saturday, two or three hours are daily allotted to clinical instruction. The union of clinical and didactic teaching will also be carried out in the Summer Session, nearly all of the teachers in this Faculty being physicians and surgeons to the Bellevue Hospital.

The Summer Session will consist chiefly of Recitations from Text-books. This term continues from the middle of March to the middle of June. During the Session there will be daily recitations in all the departments, held by a corps of examiners appointed by the regular Faculty. Regular clinics will also be held.

FEES FOR THE REGULAR SESSION. — Fees for Tickets to all the Lectures during the Preliminary and Regular Term, including Clinical Lectures, $140.00; Matriculation Fee, $5.00; Demonstrator's Ticket (including material for dissection), $10.00; Graduation Fee, $30.00.

FEES FOR THE SUMMER SESSION. — Matriculation (Ticket good for the following winter), $5.00; Recitations and Clinics, $50.00; Dissection (Ticket good for the following winter), $10.00.

☞ For the Annual Circular and Catalogue, giving regulations for graduation, and other information, address the Secretary of the College, Prof. AUSTIN FLINT, Jr., Bellevue Hospital Medical College.
